(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

The Chinese riots and multiple civil wars frighten upper class Chinese and drive them to foreign countries.

That's bad for China. Many of the upper class, the moron, parasite, spendthrift class so carefully described here in "society news" could be spared advantageously.

But real work is done by trained minds and any really able mind usually has several generations of training behind it — although the owner may not know it. The slowest thoroughbred horse can run faster than the fastest cart horse.

That was proved in the French revolution, on which the French republic is based. The revolution was created by the greatest minds in France, they prepared the soil in advance. It was carried through by educated men exclusively—Danton, Mirabeau, Robespierre, Marat.

The workers of the lower class howled around the guillotine, demanding more heads but did nothing of importance except supply numbers.

Unthinking in the revolution, they were just as unthinking when Napoleon herded them together and drove them around Europe to be shot for his glory.

They kissed him on his imperial coat, as they had howled for the royal head of Louis. The Chinese will miss their thinking men. Their departure will make it easy for Europe to continue in control of huge China.

Mr. Anderson, recently released from prison—he says he was not guilty—has definite plans for his new secret society, the A. P. P. P. P. A. or "American, Prohibition, Protestant Protective, Patriotic Alliance."

That alliance will unite with the Ku Klux Klan to drive from office Governor Smith and prevent his nomination for the presidency by the Democrats.

It's an interesting program, but if the Rev. Dr. Burchard were alive he could tell Mr. Anderson that such plans sometimes go wrong.

Dr. Burchard has only three letters, R. R. R., as against Mr. Anderson's six, but the three Burchard words, "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion" contained the nucleus of the Anderson idea.

Nevertheless they defeated Blaine, whom Burchard wanted to help.

Nature seems also to be turning "modernist," with the accompanying indifference to established respectabilities and taboos.

The other day in one single storm lightning struck the Natural History museum in New York, as you have read, set fire to a hospital and shattered the great cross on top of St. Patrick's cathedral.

Seven Men Fined Total of $2,800 on Dry Law Charges

Fines totaling $2,800 were assessed against seven alleged violators of the prohibition law by Mayor Charles Brown in police court last night. Another man is being held in jail in default of $1,000 bond for a hearing Tuesday afternoon.

Those fined last night were: Harry Anderson, Walnut street, $1,000; Thomas Morgan, Charles Kail, George Lawton, Tony Carney, Charles Thomas and Everett Cunningham, $300 each. All except Morgan and Anderson made arrangements to settle their fines and were released.

Albert Watkin, Ridgeway avenue, pleaded not guilty when arraigned yesterday and will be given a trial this afternoon.

All were charged with selling intoxicating liquor and were arrested on warrants. Police have other warrants which probably will be served within the next few days.

NEW PHILADELPHIA MAN AND F. P. GEIGER WILL EXCHANGE POSTS SEPT. 1

Board of Education, by Vote of Three to Two, Selects Superintendent After Spirited Debate, in Which President J. H. Brookes Appeals for Compromise Choice.

BROOKES AND WEAVER CAST THEIR BALLOTS FOR BLUFFTON, O., EDUCATOR

Successful Applicant, Chosen From Field of 80, is Elected at Monday Meeting for Four-Year Term at Annual Salary Ranging From $4,200 to $4,500.

Charles S. McVay, superintendent of the public schools at New Philadelphia for approximately three years and who was recently ousted when F. P. Geiger, of this city, was elected to the post, was named head of the East Liverpool public schools for a term of four years at a stormy session of the board of education in the high school building last night.

He was elected on the votes of D. F. White, R. W. Sample and George Wilhelm. President J. H. Brookes and F. T. Weaver supported the candidacy of C. Edward Bender of Bluffton, O., whom they declared to be a compromise candidate for T. O. Trescott, of Ravenna, their first choice for the office.

McVay's salary, by a vote of three to two, was fixed at $4,200 for the first year, with an increase of $100 per year for the next three years. He is said to have been receiving $4,000 per year as superintendent of the New Philadelphia schools.

The New Philadelphia educator was named from a field of approximately 80 candidates. The field, however, last week had narrowed down to two applicants—McVay and Trescott. In a test vote taken at a special meeting last week, Trescott was practically eliminated when but two votes could be mustered to support him. Bender was then entered as a "dark horse."

Plea for "Harmony" Candidate.

At the beginning of the discussion, President J. H. Brookes made a plea for a "harmony" candidate, one for whom a unanimous vote could be cast. White entered the name of McVay for the place, while Brookes placed the name of Bender before the board.

"A very able gentleman," was the remark of Wilhelm when President Brookes offered the name of the Bluffton educator. White explained that after a careful study of the field of applicants he felt himself duty-bound to support McVay as his first choice.

Sample said that he would not stand in the way of the election of Bender if the other members of the board supported him and, furthermore, he would be willing to make the vote unanimous.

Wilhelm declared that he could not see his way clear to vote for Bender as his first choice, believing McVay to be the better man. Brookes declared that he had been willing to eliminate the candidacy of T. O. Trescott, believing that the Bluffton educator might be considered as a compromise. He expressed willingness to vote for one of five or six others or for any of the 80 aspirants, excepting McVay, in

AGED WOMEN HURT IN FALLS

Mrs. Henrietta Elkins and Mrs. Louisa Curby Victims.

Two aged women are in a serious condition today as the result of injuries which they sustained in falls.

Mrs. Henrietta Elkins, 75, sustained a broken left shoulder and bruises when she fell down the stairway in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Hilliard, Summit lane and East alley, at 3:30 o'clock this morning. Mrs. Elkins was alone in the house at the time of the accident.

She had arisen from her bed and, in passing through the dark hallway to another room, she became confused and fell down the stairs. Neighbors, hearing the sound of her fall and moans broke in the door and found her lying at the foot of the stairs. She was unconscious for about two hours. Dr. A. J. Michaels attended her.

Mrs. Louisa G. Curby, 85, 313 West Third street, sustained a compound fracture of the right hip in a fall down the front steps of her home Saturday afternoon.

She was taken to the city hospital where an X-ray examination of the injury was made Sunday by Dr. Michaels. Because of her advanced age, her condition is regarded as serious. She is the mother of R. B. Curby, assistant cashier of the Dollar Savings bank.

RESUME DEBT PARLEY IN U. S.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—The Italian-American debt negotiations were resumed at the treasury today.

TEAR BOMB LETS GO; CLERKS FLEE

A half dozen or more persons in the Guttridge & Rand store in the Diamond, were forced to flee at 5 o'clock last evening when Patrolman Norman McFarland accidentally discharged his mace containing one of the tear bombs, recently purchased by the safety department.

McFarland was explaining the operation of the mace to a party of employes and customers, when the bomb was accidentally set off. Several of thees in the room were caught by the smoke, but managed to reach the outsidee before they were affected.

All members of the police department have been equipped with the tear bomb maces to thwart hold-ups and robberies and to disperse mobs. The gas leaves no evil after effects, but will cause temporary blindness.

HOMELESS FED BY RED CROSS

SANTA BARBARA, June 30.—This was a city of makeshift today.

All cafes, stores, markets and theatres were closed.

Red Cross workers fed the homeless at stands in the streets. Sandwiches and black coffee was the universal menu.

Benches and boxes formed the equipment of any army of news workers. There were no typewriters. Automobile batteries furnished "juice" for the telegraph instruments.

Handbills were issued in lieu of newspapers.

Not a man was shaved.

Sheds made temporary telegraph offices and the city council sat in the street.

FOUR INJURED AS Y. & O. CAR SMASHES AUTO

Three-year-old Child Suffers Fractured Skull.

CROSSING CRASH

Engine of Sydney Young's Coupe Stalls as Car Nears.

A three-year old child suffered a fractured skull and three other persons less seriously hurt, when a north bound Y. & O. passenger car crashed into a stalled automobile at Gilmore's crossing, about 12 miles north of here, at 7 o'clock last night.

The injured:

JAMES, three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Young, of Laurel lane, fractured skull; condition serious.

MRS. HELEN YOUNG, child's mother, back injured and scalp lacerated.

SYDNEY YOUNG, her husband, deep gash on forehead and hand.

UNIDENTIFIED 12-YEAR-OLD-BOY lacerations about face and head.

Young and his family had driven to a farm house near Gilmore's stop to purchase eggs. Young had completed his purchases and, in turning the machine, backed onto the tracks from a side road.

When the machine, a coupe, was on the tracks the engine stalled and before Young could start it, the automobile was struck by the approaching car.

The cowcather of the street car first struck the machine leaving its imprint in the side of the automobile. The injured were carried into a nearby residence and brought to the City hospital by a passing automobile. Dr. W. A. Hobbs dressed their injuries. Young and the youth, who accompanied him, were discharged from the hospital last night, but Mrs. Young and her son remained in the institution.

The automobile was badly wrecked.

Two Minor Fires Throw New Terror Into Ravaged City

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., June 30.—Two minor fires threw new terror into this ravished city today. The flames, however, were quickly controlled and no damage done nor was the city seriously threatened by fire.

One of the fires was a burning truck in the damaged business section and the other a rubbish fire, temporarily out of control in the historic Patio De Lagerra at the city plaza.

While plans were made at a mass meeting of welfare workers and officials to care for the needy, and hungry, food and bedding and various supplies poured into Santa Barbara Los Angeles, Ventura, Oxnard and many nearby cities dispatched truckload after truckload of supplies and food.

11 KNOWN DEAD ARE FOUND IN QUAKE-WRECKED SANTA BARBARA

Corps of Workers Search Ruins as Tremors Continue.

BODIES MANGLED

Property Damage is Estimated as High as $25,000,000.

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., June 30.—While slight tremors continued, corps of workers braved the wreckage area in earthquake stricken Santa Barbara today and recovered two bodies from the debris of the Arlington hotel, making a total of 11 known dead.

The newly found bodies were those of B. R. Hancock, son of a Los Angeles banker, and Mrs. C. R. Perkins, wife of a former vice president of the C. B. & Q railroad.

Fear More Tremors.

Both bodies were found under tons of huge concrete blocks which had been removed by steam shovels.

The bodies were maimed almost beyond recognition.

Another body was reported to have been sighted in the wreckage at the Arlington hotel.

The tremors early today did no great damage, merely shaking down loose bricks and stones.

The weather was extremely sultry and fog came drifting into the city with cooling sea breezes. It was regarded by many old timers in the city as "typical earthquake' weather and more tremors were feared.

Women Brave and Tireless.

Santa Barbara's women are brave and tireless. For hours they have served coffee and sandwiches from tents to police, firemen and workers.

Many women worked all night in the coffee booths, many men have been conscripted as laborers by the city. They are digging in the debris on State street and are removing piles or bricks from the streets and are

NEWELL FARE IS APPROVED

Seven-cent Rate on Car Line is Effective Tomorrow.

Seven-cent street car fare will be effective on the Newell-East Liverpool line tomorrow.

The interstate commerce commission, before which the proposed increase in tariffs was filed more than a month ago, by the Newell Street Railway and Bridge company, gave their approval to the increase in failing to take any action within 30 days because no objections were filed.

The Hancock county court this week approved the increased rate for that part of the line within the county. The East Liverpool city council voted the preparation of an ordinance granting the company permission to collect the seven-cent fare within East Liverpool at a recent meeting.

The pay-as-you-enter plan will be used.

The line has been operating at a loss for several years on the five-cent fare basis, according to Fred B. Lawrence, secretary-treasurer of the company.

QUAKES AFFECT OLD VOLCANO

HONOLULU, June 30.—Large sulphur patches have developed in the firepit of Kilauea, a volcano near here, following the earthquakes which shook Montana and California, according to a cable from Dr. Thomas Jaggar, volcano expert.

Dr. Jaggar stated today that there was no reason to expect a corresponding earth movement in the islands, but said the appearance of sulphur patches indicated an early return of lava.

In commenting on the Santa Barbara earthquake, Dr. Jaggar declared such a tremor was expected by men who have studied the faults in that section of the country.

FALL PRIMARY FOR MUNICIPAL JUDGE ORDERED

Attorney General Rules on East Liverpool Question.

CLERK VOTE, TOO

New Judicial District Created, is Crabbe's Opinion.

COLUMBUS, June 30. — Attorney General Crabbe ruled today that a primary must be held next autumn for nomination of candidates for election in November as judge and clerk of the new East Liverpool municipal court. The ruling also held that the act creating the court set up a new judicial district co-terminous with the boundaries of the city and Liverpool township.

The question was submitted by J. W. Moore, clerk of the board of deputy state supervisors of elections for Columbiana county, when candidates failed to file petitions for nomination for judge in the primary.

Chief Deputy J. S. Hilbert and Clerk J. W. Moore, of the Columbiana county election board, at noon today had not received an official copy of the attorney general's ruling on the municipal court question, but, on the face of news dispatches, interpreted the opinion to mean a special primary, in which both the city and township electors shall have the privilege of voting, must be held in the fall.

This means the machinery for the court vote will be set up following the municipal primaries on August 11. Inasmuch as the township voters have no voice in municipal primaries, the judgeship and clerkship could not be voted upon them.

KIWANIS CLUB MEETS THURSDAY

Report of the recent convention of Kiwanis International which was held at St. Paul last week, will be given by Immediate Past Governor R. C. Heddleston at the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis club in the Larkins annex, Market street, Thursday noon.

The attendance prize will be furnished by O. O. Allison, Chester banker.

SCHOOL BOARD VOTES USE OF BUILDINGS FOR BIBLE CLASSES

Religious Instruction is Adopted After Warm Discussion.

BROOKES OPPOSES

Authorize Part Time Course and Night School for Workers.

Notwithstanding the opposition of President J. H. Brookes, who threatened a court injunction, the board of education, at an adjourned session in the high school building, last night, granted the Ministerial association permission to conduct classes in religious education in the schools "as indicated by their questions and answers," beginning at the opening of the fall term.

The vote on the proposition was four to one, Members Sample, Wilhelm, White and Weaver supporting the plan, while Brookes, who has fought the suggestion from the beginning, voted against it.

Warned of Court Fight

"I have been notified that you will be met with an injunction and this matter will be settled in the courts," Brookes informed the board after the motion had been introduced by Sample and seconded by White.

"Can we employ the president of the board to defend us in the courts?" asked Sample, directing his question at the presiding officer.

"No you certainly cannot," was Brooke's reply.

Other members of the board smiled, but offered no comment.

The question of using the school buildings for classes in religious education has been hanging fire for about two months, following a request from the Ministerial association that these classes be assembled in the schools instead of the churches.

About a month ago, Attorney General C. C. Crabbe was asked to rule upon the legality of the proposal. He replied that a recent ruling of the supreme court was examined and that

Lions Club O. K.'s Salvation Army's Drive for $2,000

The Lions club, at its weekly dinner meeting in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A. last evening, endorsed the proposed financial drive of the Salvation Army and authorized the appointment of a committee which will work in conjunction with other service clubs and organizations of the city to raise $2,000 representing the deficit in the budget.

The committee includes G. L. and Harry Brokaw, J. H. Smith and W. S. Stevenson. The attendance prize furnished by William Shaw was awarded to J. H. Smith. In the absence of President W. S. Foulks, Emmett Myler, vice-president, presided.

Wives of the members will be guests at next Monday's dinner at which officers will be elected.

SPIRIT OF FRANCISCAN FRIARS WHO FOUNDED SANTA BARBARA RISES TO NEW HEIGHTS AS STEPS ARE TAKEN TODAY TO REBUILD STRICKEN CITY

BY COPELAND C. BURG.

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., June 30.—The spirit of the Franciscan Friars who founded this city in 1781 rose to new heights today.

While the dust was unsettled from its earthquake-shaken streets, while bricks still fell from its historic missions and noted hotels, and while minor earth tremors continued, Santa Barbara prepared to build a new and more beautiful city.

With the same spirit with which was builded a new Johnstown, a new San Francisco and a new Galveston, Santa Barbarans pledged themselves to build again and better.

The shadow of the Casa De La Guerra, the historic patio of which Richard Dana told in his famous "Two Years Before the Mast," the city's prominent citizens gathered beneath an ancient pepper tree and arranged to "back to the limit" the new city to come from the wrecked buildings and streets of the "city that was."

Ruin On All Sides.

From the old mission, built in 1786, the best preserved of all California's old missions, to the new California hotel, opened last week, there is ruin in Santa Barbara. Down along State street, the principal thoroughfare of the city, runs an unending story of disaster. Common bricks are seen standing beside $25 pairs of shoes thrown from shops catering to Santa Barbara's millionaires. Gowns from Paris are blowing from broken shop windows. A parrot in an old Spanish cage sputters in a ruined patio, half-filled with brick and mortar from the wrecks of modern store buildings on all sides. But from these scenes California's city of the rich turned its eyes.

In alleys and on brick piles in the streets, architects spread out plans and designs.

Old Spanish words used in California architecture filled the air.

Santa Barbara planned its new Alhambra.

From the suburbs of Montecito, where millionaires' lawns and polo fields were strewn with debris, to the humble Spanish, Mexican and Chinese sections in the heart of the city, new buildings, homes, grounds, and streets were destroyed.

Row on row, the homes of some of America's richest families sparkled in the sun today, but walls were cracked, chimneys down, gardens wrecked and windows broken.

Millionaires' Homes Damaged.

Like a blue book of wealth and social power read the list of damaged Montecito homes, including those of Mrs. John Mitchell, formerly Lolita Armour, of Chicago; Mrs. Harry French Knight, widow of Hobart Moore, the "wheat cornerer;" Mrs. Henry E. Bothin, San Francisco; F. F. Peabody, of collar fame, and his wife, formerly Kathleen Burke, war worker; William H. Bliss, New York; Robert Wood Bliss, minister to Sweden; David Gray, Detroit automobile king; David E. Jones, Chicago; William G. McAdoo, Los Angeles; Walter E. Hodges, president of the Santa Fe railway; C. K. G. Billings, of race track lore; George Owen Knapp, Chicago millionaire, and Mrs. Colin Campbell, Washington, D. C., beauty, sister of Joseph Leiter.

Then there was Max Fleischmann, the Cincinnati yeast king, who came from his partially wrecked home in the nearby Carpenteria valley to give $5,000 to Santa Barbara's relief fund.

"Tell the world Santa Barbara can care for its own," said Fleischmann. "The disaster is great but we all will build a new and better in our beloved city."

And Santa Barbara gratefully took the money of Fleischmann and the Montecito colony, but turned in the new day for its real strength to "the spirit of the Franciscans."

"Carry On," is Slogan.

In the warmpth of the sunny California morning there gathered at the old mission all classes. From Montecito rolled luxurious limousines. From Mexican Town walked shawled women with wrinkled, brown faces

There were no tears.

Theer were no tears.

Then from a doorway in the ruins of the old mission came Father Superior Augustine to give his blessing and to ask God to guide his folk in their new works.

Father Augustine prayed and said: "There is a spirit of the Franciscan Fathers that cannot die. It is this spirit that has just prompted me to order all the fathers to remain at the old mission. It is badly damaged but we will stay here and with the rest of Santa Barbara build and restore as the fathers before us. We shall 'carry on' for the order in meeting this disaster as the Franciscan Fathers met the terrors of the west more than a century ago. And the Holy Father bless you all."

BY WM. GIBBS McADOO,
Former Secretary of the United States Treasury.

SANTA BARBARA, June 30.—Destruction today in Santa Barbara is serious but it should not be disheartening to this city, to California or to the nation.

Santa Barbara is the city of the SANTA BARBARA, Calif., June 30.—Two minor fires threw new terror into this ravished city today. The flames, however, were quickly controlled and no damage done nor was the city seriously threatened by fire.

One of the flares was a burning truck in the damaged business section and the other a rubbish fire, temporarily out of control in the historic Patio De Lagerra at the city plaza.

While plans were made at a mass meeting of welfare workers and officials to care for the needy, and hungry, food and bedding and various supplies poured into Santa Barbara Los Angeles, Ventura, Oxnard and many nearby cities dispatched truckload after truckload of supplies and food.

11 KNOWN DEAD ARE FOUND IN QUAKE-WRECKED SANTA BARBARA

Corps of Workers Search Ruins as Tremors Continue.

BODIES MANGLED

Property Damage is Estimated as High as $25,000,000.

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., June 30.—While slight tremors continued, corps of workers braved the wreckage area in earthquake stricken Santa Barbara today and recovered two bodies from the debris of the Arlington hotel, making a total of 11 known dead.

The newly found bodies were those of B. R. Hancock, son of a Los Angeles banker, and Mrs. C. R. Perkins, wife of a former vice president of the C. B. & Q railroad.

Fear More Tremors.

Both bodies were found under tons of huge concrete blocks which had been removed by steam shovels.

The bodies were maimed almost beyond recognition.

Another body was reported to have been sighted in the wreckage at the Arlington hotel.

The tremors early today did no great damage, merely shaking down loose bricks and stones.

The weather was extremely sultry and fog came drifting into the city with cooling sea breezes. It was regarded by many old timers in the city as "typical earthquake' weather and more tremors were feared.

Women Brave and Tireless.

Santa Barbara's women are brave and tireless. For hours they have served coffee and sandwiches from tents to police, firemen and workers.

Many women worked all night in the coffee booths, many men have been conscripted as laborers by the city. They are digging in the debris on State street and are removing piles or bricks from the streets and are

NEWELL FARE IS APPROVED

Seven-cent Rate on Car Line is Effective Tomorrow.

Seven-cent street car fare will be effective on the Newell-East Liverpool line tomorrow.

The interstate commerce commission, before which the proposed increase in tariffs was filed more than a month ago, by the Newell Street Railway and Bridge company, gave their approval to the increase in failing to take any action within 30 days because no objections were filed.

The Hancock county court this week approved the increased rate for that part of the line within the county. The East Liverpool city council voted the preparation of an ordinance granting the company permission to collect the seven-cent fare within East Liverpool at a recent meeting.

The pay-as-you-enter plan will be used.

The line has been operating at a loss for several years on the five-cent fare basis, according to Fred B. Lawrence, secretary-treasurer of the company.

QUAKES AFFECT OLD VOLCANO

HONOLULU, June 30. — Large sulphur patches have developed in the firepit of Kilauea, a volcano near here, following the earthquakes which shook Montana and California, according to a cable from Dr. Thomas Jaggar, volcano expert.

Dr. Jaggar stated today that there was no reason to expect a corresponding earth movement in the islands, but said the appearance of sulphur patches indicated an early return of lava.

In commenting on the Santa Barbara earthquake, Dr. Jaggar declared such a tremor was expected by men who have studied the faults in that section of the country.

FALL PRIMARY FOR MUNICIPAL JUDGE ORDERED

CLERK VOTE, TOO

New Judicial District Created, is Crabbe's Opinion.

COLUMBUS, June 30. — Attorney General Crabbe ruled today that a primary must be held next autumn for nomination of candidates for election in November as judge and clerk of the new East Liverpool municipal court. The ruling also held that the act creating the court set up a new judicial district co-terminous with the boundaries of the city and Liverpool township.

The question was submitted by J. W. Moore, clerk of the board of deputy state supervisors of elections for Columbiana county, when candidates failed to file petitions for nomination for judge in the primary.

Chief Deputy J. S. Hilbert and Clerk J. W. Moore, of the Columbiana county election board, at noon today had not received an official copy of the attorney general's ruling on the municipal court question, but, on the face of news dispatches, interpreted the opinion to mean a special primary, in which both the city and township electors shall have the privilege of voting, must be held in the fall.

This means the machinery for the court vote will be set up following the municipal primaries on August 11. Inasmuch as the township voters have no voice in municipal primaries, the judgeship and clerkship could not be voted upon them.

SCHOOL BOARD VOTES USE OF BUILDINGS FOR BIBLE CLASSES

Religious Instruction is Adopted After Warm Discussion.

BROOKES OPPOSES

Authorize Part Time Course and Night School for Workers.

Notwithstanding the opposition of President J. H. Brookes, who threatened a court injunction, the board of education, at an adjourned session in the high school building, last night, granted the Ministerial association permission to conduct classes in religious education in the schools "as indicated by their questions and answers," beginning at the opening of the fall term.

The vote on the proposition was four to one, Members Sample, Wilhelm, White and Weaver supporting the plan, while Brookes, who has fought the suggestion from the beginning, voted against it.

Warned of Court Fight

"I have been notified that you will be met with an injunction and this matter will be settled in the courts," Brookes informed the board after the motion had been introduced by Sample and seconded by White.

"Can we employ the president of the board to defend us in the courts?" asked Sample, directing his question at the presiding officer.

"No you certainly cannot," was Brooke's reply.

Other members of the board smiled, but offered no comment.

The question of using the school buildings for classes in religious education has been hanging fire for about two months, following a request from the Ministerial association that these classes be assembled in the schools instead of the churches.

About a month ago, Attorney General C. C. Crabbe was asked to rule upon the legality of the proposal. He replied that a recent ruling of the supreme court was examined and that

SPIRIT OF FRANCISCAN FRIARS WHO FOUNDED SANTA BARBARA RISES TO NEW HEIGHTS AS STEPS ARE TAKEN TODAY TO REBUILD STRICKEN CITY

BY COPELAND C. BURG.

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., June 30.—The spirit of the Franciscan Friars who founded this city in 1781 rose to new heights today.

While the dust was unsettled from its earthquake-shaken streets, while bricks still fell from its historic missions and noted hotels, and while minor earth tremors continued, Santa Barbara prepared to build a new and more beautiful city.

With the same spirit with which was builded a new Johnstown, a new San Francisco and a new Galveston, Santa Barbarans pledged themselves to build again and better.

The shadow of the Casa De La Guerra, the historic patio of which Richard Dana told in his famous "Two Years Before the Mast," the city's prominent citizens gathered beneath an ancient pepper tree and arranged to "back to the limit" the new city to come from the wrecked buildings and streets of the "city that was."

Ruin On All Sides.

From the old mission, built in 1786, the best preserved of all California's old missions, to the new California hotel, opened last week, there is ruin in Santa Barbara. Down along State street, the principal thoroughfare of the city, runs an unending story of disaster. Common bricks are seen standing beside $25 pairs of shoes thrown from shops catering to Santa Barbara's millionaires. Gowns from Paris are blowing from broken shop windows. A parrot in an old Spanish cage sputters in a ruined patio, half-filled with brick and mortar from the wrecks of modern store buildings on all sides. But from these scenes California's city of the rich turned its eyes.

In alleys and on brick piles in the streets, architects spread out plans and designs.

Old Spanish words used in California architecture filled the air.

Santa Barbara planned its new Alhambra.

From the suburbs of Montecito, where millionaires' lawns and polo fields were strewn with debris, to the humble Spanish, Mexican and Chinese sections in the heart of the city, new buildings, homes, grounds, and streets were destroyed.

Row on row, the homes of some of America's richest families sparkled in the sun today, but walls were cracked, chimneys down, gardens wrecked and windows broken.

Millionaires' Homes Damaged.

Like a blue book of wealth and social power read the list of damaged Montecito homes, including those of Mrs. John Mitchell, formerly Lolita Armour, of Chicago; Mrs. Harry French Knight, widow of Hobart Moore, the "wheat cornerer;" Mrs. Henry E. Bothin, San Francisco; F. F. Peabody, of collar fame, and his wife, formerly Kathleen Burke, war worker; William H. Bliss, New York; Robert Wood Bliss, minister to Sweden; David Gray, Detroit automobile king; David E. Jones, Chicago; William G. McAdoo, Los Angeles; Walter E. Hodges, president of the Santa Fe railway; C. K. G. Billings, of race track lore; George Owen Knapp, Chicago millionaire, and Mrs. Colin Campbell, Washington, D. C., beauty, sister of Joseph Leiter.

Then there was Max Fleischmann, the Cincinnati yeast king, who came from his partially wrecked home in the nearby Carpenteria valley to give $5,000 to Santa Barbara's relief fund.

"Tell the world Santa Barbara can care for its own," said Fleischmann. "The disaster is great but we all will build a new and better in our beloved city."

And Santa Barbara gratefully took the money of Fleischmann and the Montecito colony, but turned in the new day for its real strength to "the spirit of the Franciscans."

"Carry On," is Slogan.

In the warmpth of the sunny California morning there gathered at the old mission all classes. From Montecito rolled luxurious limousines. From Mexican Town walked shawled women with wrinkled, brown faces

There were no tears.

Theer were no tears.

Then from a doorway in the ruins of the old mission came Father Superior Augustine to give his blessing and to ask God to guide his folk in their new works.

Father Augustine prayed and said: "There is a spirit of the Franciscan Fathers that cannot die. It is this spirit that has just prompted me to order all the fathers to remain at the old mission. It is badly damaged but we will stay here and with the rest of Santa Barbara build and restore as the fathers before us. We shall 'carry on' for the order in meeting this disaster as the Franciscan Fathers met the terrors of the west more than a century ago. And the Holy Father bless you all."

500 ATTEND AS PLAYLOT OPENS

Ice Cream Cones are Distributed Monday Evening.

Approximately 500 children attended the formal opening of the downtown playground lot at the corner of Second and Washington streets, Monday evening.

Ice cream cones, furnished free of charge, were distributed. A band concert was given by the Eagles band.

Mrs. John Bowers, chairman of the recreation committee of the City Federation of Women's Clubs, in charge of the playground, today expressed her thanks to the East Liverpool Sand & Gravel company for two loads of sand furnished the playgrounds, the Crockery City Ice and Products company and the Crystal Ice cream and Bottling company for ice cream; the Riggs company for cones; P. Milliron for drayage and storage, the Eagles' band and all others who assisted the association this year.

The playground will be open daily from 12 noon to 8 p. m. It will be closed during the forenoon so as not to interfere with the Daily Vacation Bible school. Frank Manton and Miss Ruth Johnston will be in charge.

Swings, slides and other apparatus is being set in position today, and by the end of the week the playlot will be in full operation. Volleyball, baseball, hikes, etc., will be program features.

Sufficient funds are on hand to operate the playgrounds for two months only. Aside from money needed for salaries, only about $50 is available. Cash contributions may be sent to Mrs. Bowers, Bradshaw avenue.

York, burning out the pews and destroying the altar.

In old days the faithful would have expected a miracle to put out the fire. But in these days, nature seems to know no favoritism, church, cathedral, that cure souls or hospital where bodies are treated, or museum that disturbs weak religious souls, by proving that the earth is a billion years old, and that Noah's ark could not have carried one per cent of living creatures. They are alike to nature and her laws. The lightning strikes one as it does the other.

"Let him that deserves it wear the palm."

One large palm should be worn by a Yankee moving picture press agent, now discussed by Englishmen. The British had decided that Americans must cease invading the empire with their moving pictures, "presenting false ideas of life."

Then along came the press agent from America with his precious film "insured for a million dollars." In Southampton that guileful American told an innocent British colonel that he ought to escort that film to London and have moving pictures taken of his fine regiment and band, advertise the noble British soldier and stimulate recruiting.

And, the poor Britisher "fell." He marched his men, band playing through the streets of London escorting the American film right up to the office of the moving picture concern. Then light dawned on him and now he says "I am fed up, sick and tired of the whole business. The Americans are too clever for us."

We are not exactly that; we can't write half as well as Shakespeare or borrow as well as Balfour. But, we do have good press agents.

James M. Reid, rich contractor, leaves this will: "None of my children can have a cent of my money until he reaches the age of 50 years. I do this in the hope and expectation that at 50 they will have developed a greater degree of respect and consideration for their father than they have shown during my lifetime."

an opinion would be given as soon as possible. The ruling has not been made.

Act Without Crabbe's Ruling.

Proponents and opponents of the plan were heard by the board about two weeks ago, when Rev. Dr. Frank G. Fowler, chairman of the religions education committee of the Ministerial association, was questioned at length regarding the pastors' plan. It was these "questions and answers" which were referred to in the motion approved by the board last night.

The issue was taken up and disposed of last night with little discussion. Proponents of the plan declared that the attorney general had been given ample time to rule, and inasmuch as his decision would not end the controversy, that there was no need for further delay.

"The court is the best place to decide this anyway," remarked Wilhelm. "We'll know then just where we stand."

President Brookes sought to have incorporated in the motion that teachers without certificates might be employed to teach the classes in religious education, but the other four members objected to the language and his amendment was blocked.

School Sessions for Workers.

The board also went on record as favoring the establishment of part time classes for children between the ages of 16 and 18 years, who are forced to leave school to seek employment on certificates issued by the superintendent, and also night classes for adult workers.

One resolution approved by the board provides that children between 16 and 18 years, holding certificates permitting them to leave school, shall attend classes four hours each week at which common school subjects shall be taught. These classes will meet in the Sixth street school from 1 to 5 o'clock each afternoon. It is pointed out that there are about 120 children between these ages in the school district, which would mean an enrollment of about 24 for each class, each afternoon. The teacher of this department would be required to visit the pupils at their place of employment during the forenoon. The federal, state and city governments would bear the expense of this course.

Class in Ceramics

The other resolution provides for the organization of classe for adults at which ceramics would be specialized in, these classes meeting in the high school building at nights. The state and federal government will pay two-thirds of the salary of the instructor of this class who shall have technical training.

Here is a copy of the two resolutions approved unanimously by the board:

"BE IT RESOLVED by the board of education of the East Liverpool city school district:

"First: That in addition to and in connection with the regular daily public school system of this city, we establish a part time school and that with the beginning of the school term of 1925-1926 and continuing each and every school term thereafter all children between the ages of sixteen and eighteen who have been excused from the regular sessions on age and school certificates and have entered industry be required to attend such part time school for not to exceed eight hours each week, and receive instruction therein supplemental to their daily occupation or which may increase their civic and vocational intelligence —such school to be held at the Sixth street building unless otherwise ordered by this board.

"Second: That the offer of the state of Ohio to aid in the employment of the teacher or teachers of such part time school be accepted and that the clerk of this board forward a copy of this resolution to the supervisor of the state department of vocational training."

"Be it resolved by the board of education of the East Liverpool city school district:

"First—That in response to the joint request of the manufacturers and workmen engaged in the ceramic industry in East Liverpool and environs we establish an evening industrial school at the high school building under the provisions of the Smith-Hughes law and beginning the first of the next school term and continuing all said term and each succeeding term until otherwise ordered, a class or classes be held in said building and instruction be given therein in the study of ceramics, chemistry, ceramic shop arithmetic, physics, modeling, free hand and mechanical drawing and other studies pertaining to the ceramic industry and tending to supplement the daily employment of pottery workers and improving them along the lines of their daily occupation; said course to be open to all men, women and children who are engaged in the ceramic industry and to be under the supervision of the board of education.

"Second—That the offer of the state of Ohio to aid in the employment of the teacher or teachers of such class or classes be accepted and that the clerk of this board forward a copy of this resolution to the supervisor of the state department of vocational training."

President and Wife Return to Swampscott, Mass.

PLYMOUTH, Vt., June 30. — President and Mrs. Coolidge, virtually assured of the recovery of the executive's 80-year-old father, Colonel John C. Coolidge, left here this morning at 11:17 a. m. to motor back to Swampscott, Mass., to resume their summer vacation.

Major James F. Coupal, the president's personal physician, remained to aid Dr. A. M. Cram, of Bridgewater, in treating the old gentleman.

On Thursday Dr. Arthur L. Chute, nationally known genito-urinary specialist from Boston, who operated on Colonel Coolidge last Saturday, will return to Plymouth to determine whether a second operation will be necessary.

picking up shoes, costly furs, dresses and hats heaved to the pavements and buried in broken glass, stucco and plaster.

Twenty four hours after the terrific shocks shook the city, Santa Barbara presented a spectacle.

Beds were everywhere — under trees, on lawns, in vacant lots, on the hills and streets.

Few houses were occupied, all families living in their yards.

Coffee was made over bonfires at central points and distributed. Little was done—everyone sat waiting.

Business was suspended, merchants not even being allowed to inspect their stores and offices.

Sandwiches and biscuits constituted meals for the most part.

Cigarettes, with stores closed, were bargained for as though pearls.

No Famine In City

There is no famine and will be none, city officials said. Plenty of plain food is available for all.

There is one spot in the stricken city of Santa Barbara which no person may approach today.

Anyone who tries, no matter what his business may be or how important will be turned back by armed guards and there will be no mistaking the nature of the orders the guards give.

The spot is a tract of several acres on which are situated the lumber yards of the Ambrose and Union lumber companies. The tract is just three blocks from the Southern Pacific station.

The reason no one can approach is that the entire area is flooded with oil from a set of Associated Oil Company tanks which were breached by the force of the quake yesterday.

Seventy thousand gallons of gasoline and 35,600 gallons of distillate have formed a great pool in the lumber yards.

A spark would start a conflagration which might destroy an already crippled city.

Houses were moved off thier foundation, household effects carried away and East Santa Barbara covered with a two-foot crust of mud when fifteen million gallons of water swept out of the broken Sheffield reservoir at the time of the first quake. The water missed the main part of the city.

City Under Martial Law.

At least two persons are missing, while 75 are injured.

The estimated property damage is $15,000,600 to $25,0000,000.

Not a stone, brick, cement or stucco structure in the city of 35,000 residents is intact.

Santa Barbarans looked upon ruined avenues and boulevards, block after block.

Three houses are burned ruins and only prompt action of firemen prevented the flames from sweeping the city. All house fires are prohibited.

The city is under martial law, soldiers and police are parading in front of the ruined homes and buildings. Up the city's main avenue of business—State street, wrecked buildings are on all sides.

Practically every fine building in Santa Barbara, with the exception of the Daily News, Lobero theater, Granada building, and the Federal building, is at least partially wrecked. Had the shake come an hour later loss of life would have been terrific.

Commercial Structures Leveled.

Commercial structures leveled or damaged were the American Legion building, First National bank, Upper Clock building, Unitarian church, San Marcos building, two telegraph offices, two telephone buildings, city hall, Presbyterian church, Knights of Columbus hall, St. Anthony's seminary, Old Mission, Morning Press, Holiday's hardware, Howard-Canfield, Paris store, Ferguson furniture, Carrillo hotel, Arlington hotel, Samark and California hotels, St. Francis hospital, Hotel Neal, Grand hotel, recreation center, parochial schools, Moose hall, Elks' building.

Every commercial building on State street was damaged to some extent.

All through the night workers dug in the wrecked four-story San Marcos building and the Arlington, where three or more bodies are believed buried.

Beautiful Anaoapa and Chapala streets did not suffer greatly, but along State street, between Sola street and the beach, great havoc was done.

Hotels and Churches Damaged.

The citys noted hotels and churches are greatly damaged.

All of the hotels are so badly wrecked, not one is habitable today.

The San Marcos building, where two persons were killed, is leveled to the street.

The Arlington and the New California hotel are demolished. The Carrillo hotel lobby is wrecked and the building split in many places.

The court house, city hall of records and the county jail are shattered beyond repair. The few prisoners in the county jail were ordered released. The city hall was undamaged.

The Congregational, Unitarian, Presbyterian church and the Church of Our Lady of Sorrows are blasted.

Caved in are the city Library and Elks' building. The front of the Elks' building is in the street.

Scene Resembles Shell-torn France.

The Upham hotel is sunk a foot in the ground.

The famous Samarkand is damaged.

El Canto and El Miracol hotels escaped serious damage.

Hotel Surf is wrecked.

The Potter theatre is in ruins.

The front of the new Virginia hotel is in the street.

Almost every single story structure on the west side of State street for a mile's distance is partially wrecked or split.

Walls of the Central hotel fell into the street, exposing littered bedrooms.

The buildings resemble shell-stormed France in war days.

Santa Barbaras fire and police force, augmented by 150 policemen from Los Angeles, is patrolling the city.

Two United States destroyers arrived this morning, bringing more sailors and marines.

rich and it will be able to take care of itself with small temporary aid. I arrived here immediately after the quake and have checked the situation thoroughly.

The city had a quake 113 years ago and from the ruins rose the fair Santa Barbara we knew yesterday.

From the stricken streets a better and more beautiful city will grow.

The thing to do is to build and Santa Barbara is starting this gigantic task today. There are plenty of bankers in all parts of the country ready to supply Santa Barbara's residents with money for this work.

Temporary burdens may be too great for the city, but all California is with us. We know the nation has stood loyally behind the city in the first critical hours. Los Angeles and surrounding cities gave much and offered all.

The death list is small and while all portions of the city have been damaged to some extent, the property damage will not be as great as estimated.

As did San Francisco, as all cities have given birth to greater things after disaster, so will Santa Barbara.

DEATH ROLL

Kommel Funeral Services.

Funeral services for Mrs. Lena Kommel, 67 years old, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in St. John's Lutheran church, Rev. J. C. Reinartz, will officiate. Burial will be made in Riverview cemetery. Deceased was a member of the Tribe of Ben Hur.

SAND CO. BUYS ANOTHER DIGGER

Another boat, to take the place of the dummy sand-digger, destroyed by fire near Babb island last Friday night, is being brought here today by the East Liverpool Sand company.

The boat was purchased from a concern which has been operating in the Allegheny river above Pittsburgh. It is expected to arrive this afternoon and will be placed in operation Wednesday morning. It has a capacity of 1,500 tons.

Insurance adjusters arrived here today to settle the claim. The boat, which sunk in about 20 feet of water, has not been moved.

McVay Named Head

order to bring about a spirit of harmony.

Brookes Opposes McVay

"Mr. McVay was rejected as superintendent of schools at New Philadelphia by a full vote of the board," said President Brookes. "He lost out at Ambridge because of some friction. We don't want to wash the dirty linen of New Philadelphia and I believe that it would be better to select some other candidate. I cannot vote for Mr. McVey and will not under any circumstances be a party to his coming to East Liverpool."

"The state superintendent of public instruction says he is a good man," said Wilhelm.

"I will say he has made a wonderful campaign for the office," Brookes replied. "I have been bombarded with letters from his friends all over the state, urging his election. He made a great many friends in New Philadelphia because the board of education there did not have a newspaper who would present their side. I couldn't work with Mr. McVay in the event of his election here. I appeal to you for harmony. Let us work for the public good."

Salary On Sliding Scale

The salary of McVay, in the event of his election, was set at $4,200 for the first year, $4,300 for the second year, $4,400 for the third year and $4,500 for the last year. This proposal was supported by White, Sample and Wilhelm and opposed by Brookes and Weaver.

By the same plan, the salary of Prof. Bender in the event of his election was placed at $4,000 for the first year, $4,100 for the second year, $4,200 for the third year and $4,300 for the last year. All five members of the board, however, voted for this proposition.

President Brookes then moved the election of the Bluffton candidate, the motion being seconded by Weaver. Upon roll call, White, Sample and Wilhelm voted "no," while Brookes and Weaver voted "yes." The motion was declared lost.

Then White offered the name of McVay, seconded by Sample. He was declared elected when White, Sample and Wilhelm voted "yes" and Brookes and Weaver voted "no."

New Superintendent is 52.

Emmett, Gaston, clerk-treasurer of the board, was instructed to communicate with McVay, advising him that he had been elected as head of the East Liverpool schools by a vote of three to two. Doubt was expressed by Weaver and Brookes as to whether McVay would accept the place under such conditions.

The newly named superintendent is 52 years of age, married and has one daughter. He was superintendent of schools for nine years at Bellaire, and then went to Ambridge, Pa., where he served for a few years. From Ambridge he went to Mingo Junction and while there was called to New Philadelphia to take the place of the school chieftain who had been killed in an automobile accident.

When McVay took charge of the schools at New Philadelphia three years ago, his supporters claim, the high school was on half-day session and the entire school system was in need of reorgaanization. It is alleged that he caused the enmity of members of the board and a number of the teachers by certain changes which he made for the benefit of the schools.

Sample Lauds McVay.

"In New Philadelphia we found the business men almost as a unit in back of Mr. McVay," said R. W. Sample, following the meeting. "About the only opposition that could be found there was among the five members of the board of education. I believe that we have made a wise selection and that the East Liverpool schools will continue to grow and prosper under his leadership."

McVay is a member of the Methodist Episcopal church and the Rotary club, and is said to be affiliated with the Masonic order. He will assume his place here about September 1, when Superintendent Geiger goes to New Philadelphia.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, June 30.—Further improvement in industrial stock prices was noted in the early trading today, following Monday's late rally. A number of the leading stocks registered gains of a point or two at the opening, after which some of them slumped off while other advanced to still higher prices. United States Rubber continued its spectacular course and reached a new high at 54⅜ in response to aggressive buying, based on the recent rise in tire and tube prices. Ajax, Fisk and Goodrich continued to attract attention.

The market appeared to have completely recovered from the shock of the California earthquake, with confirmatory dispatches showing that the damage was local and did not seriously affect the properties whose stocks are traded in on the floor of the exchange. Bullish pools were ready to resume their forward price movements in favored stocks. American Can was up two points at the start, but sold off when directors of the company announced only the regular dividend on the common stock.

Nearly all of the active motor and accessory stocks resumed the rally near theend of the first hour, with General Motors, Pierce-Arrow, Mack Trucks and Studebaker in the ead. Motor Wheel and Stewart Warner featured the accessories.

With call money back to 5 per cent the money situation appeared to be under less of a strain.

Took Two Plasters to Remove This Stubborn Corn

—But It Never Came Back

"I had a callused corn that burned and ached until it made me sick all over," writes Miss Grace Graver, 869 Edison St., Indianapolis, Ind. "Any kind of shoe hurt it. A friend recommended 'Blue-jay' Plasters and I used two in succession, for mine was a stubborn corn. The first plaster relieved the pain at once. Two days later, the second plaster lifted the corn right out. That was about a year ago, and the corn never came back."

All over America the shapely little "Blue-jay" Plaster is bringing merciful relief. Its soft felt ring is encircling millions of corns—holding off the painful shoe pressure. The "Blue-jay" preparation is centered in this ring, right on top of the corn. An adhesive strip holds the plaster in place. In 48 hours, those corns lift right out—removed by "Blue-jay," a chemist's great discovery!

Some extra-stubborn corns may require a second plaster, but isn't this better than risking infection by paring corns at home? No chance for mistakes in getting on the right amount, as when you drop on a liquid remedy. In "Blue-jay" Plasters, the dose is measured for you by an able chemist, not too much—not too little—just the right amount to remove the corn gently. Hence, we recommend "Blue-jay" Plasters as better than any liquid, than even our own. Package of six, 25c at any druggist's. Try them. In two days write us your experience. Ice Cream Cones are Distributed Monday Evening.

Approximately 500 children attended the formal opening of the downtown playground lot at the corner of Second and Washington streets, Monday evening.

Ice cream cones, furnished free of charge, were distributed. A band concert was given by the Eagles band.

Mrs. John Bowers, chairman of the recreation committee of the City Federation of Women's Clubs, in charge of the playground, today expressed her thanks to the East Liverpool Sand & Gravel company for two loads of sand furnished the playgrounds, the Crockery City Ice and Products company and the Crystal Ice cream and Bottling company for ice cream; the Riggs company for cones; P. Milliron for drayage and storage, the Eagles' band and all others who assisted the association this year.

The playground will be open daily from 12 noon to 8 p. m. It will be closed during the forenoon so as not to interfere with the Daily Vacation Bible school. Frank Manton and Miss Ruth Johnston will be in charge.

Swings, slides and other apparatus is being set in position today, and by the end of the week the playlot will be in full operation. Volleyball, baseball, hikes, etc., will be program features.

Sufficient funds are on hand to operate the playgrounds for two months only. Aside from money needed for salaries, only about $50 is available. Cash contributions may be sent to Mrs. Bowers, Bradshaw avenue.

York, burning out the pews and destroying the altar.

In old days the faithful would have expected a miracle to put out the fire. But in these days, nature seems to know no favoritism, church, cathedral, that cure souls or hospital where bodies are treated, or museum that disturbs weak religious souls, by proving that the earth is a billion years old, and that Noah's ark could not have carried one per cent of living creatures. They are alike to nature and her laws. The lightning strikes one as it does the other.

"Let him that deserves it wear the palm."

One large palm should be worn by a Yankee moving picture press agent, now discussed by Englishmen. The British had decided that Americans must cease invading the empire with their moving pictures, "presenting false ideas of life."

Then along came the press agent from America with his precious film "insured for a million dollars." In Southampton that guileful American told an innocent British colonel that he ought to escort that film to London and have moving pictures taken of his fine regiment and band, advertise the noble British soldier and stimulate recruiting.

And, the poor Britisher "fell." He marched his men, band playing through the streets of London escorting the American film right up to the office of the moving picture concern. Then light dawned on him and now he says "I am fed up, sick and tired of the whole business. The Americans are too clever for us."

We are not exactly that; we can't write half as well as Shakespeare or borrow as well as Balfour. But, we do have good press agents.

James M. Reid, rich contractor, leaves this will: "None of my children can have a cent of my money until he reaches the age of 50 years. I do this in the hope and expectation that at 50 they will have developed a greater degree of respect and consideration for their father than they have shown during my lifetime."

School Board Votes

an opinion would be given as soon as possible. The ruling has not been made.

Act Without Crabbe's Ruling.

Proponents and opponents of the plan were heard by the board about two weeks ago, when Rev. Dr. Frank G. Fowler, chairman of the religions education committee of the Ministerial association, was questioned at length regarding the pastors' plan. It was these "questions and answers" which were referred to in the motion approved by the board last night.

The issue was taken up and disposed of last night with little discussion. Proponents of the plan declared that the attorney general had been given ample time to rule, and inasmuch as his decision would not end the controversy, that there was no need for further delay.

"The court is the best place to decide this anyway," remarked Wilhelm. "We'll know then just where we stand."

President Brookes sought to have incorporated in the motion that teachers without certificates might be employed to teach the classes in religious education, but the other four members objected to the language and his amendment was blocked.

School Sessions for Workers.

The board also went on record as favoring the establishment of part time classes for children between the ages of 16 and 18 years, who are forced to leave school to seek employment on certificates issued by the superintendent, and also night classes for adult workers.

One resolution approved by the board provides that children between 16 and 18 years, holding certificates permitting them to leave school, shall attend classes four hours each week at which common school subjects shall be taught. These classes will meet in the Sixth street school from 1 to 5 o'clock each afternoon. It is pointed out that there are about 120 children between these ages in the school district, which would mean an enrollment of about 24 for each class, each afternoon. The teacher of this department would be required to visit the pupils at their place of employment during the forenoon. The federal, state and city governments would bear the expense of this course.

Class in Ceramics

The other resolution provides for the organization of classe for adults at which ceramics would be specialized in, these classes meeting in the high school building at nights. The state and federal government will pay two-thirds of the salary of the instructor of this class who shall have technical training.

Here is a copy of the two resolutions approved unanimously by the board:

"BE IT RESOLVED by the board of education of the East Liverpool city school district:

"First: That in addition to and in connection with the regular daily public school system of this city, we establish a part time school and that with the beginning of the school term of 1925-1926 and continuing each and every school term thereafter all children between the ages of sixteen and eighteen who have been excused from the regular sessions on age and school certificates and have entered industry be required to attend such part time school for not to exceed eight hours each week, and receive instruction therein supplemental to their daily occupation or which may increase their civic and vocational intelligence —such school to be held at the Sixth street building unless otherwise ordered by this board.

"Second: That the offer of the state of Ohio to aid in the employment of the teacher or teachers of such part time school be accepted and that the clerk of this board forward a copy of this resolution to the supervisor of the state department of vocational training."

"Be it resolved by the board of education of the East Liverpool city school district:

"First—That in response to the joint request of the manufacturers and workmen engaged in the ceramic industry in East Liverpool and environs we establish an evening industrial school at the high school building under the provisions of the Smith-Hughes law and beginning the first of the next school term and continuing all said term and each succeeding term until otherwise ordered, a class or classes be held in said building and instruction be given therein in the study of ceramics, chemistry, ceramic shop arithmetic, physics, modeling, free hand and mechanical drawing and other studies pertaining to the ceramic industry and tending to supplement the daily emplyoment of pottery workers and improving them along the lines of their daily occupation; said course to be open to all men, women and children who are engaged in the ceramic industry and to be under the supervision of the board of education.

"Second—That the offer of the state of Ohio to aid in the employment of the teacher or teachers of such class or classes be accepted and that the clerk of this board forward a copy of this resolution to the supervisor of the state department of vocational training."

COL. COOLIDGE IS RECOVERING

President and Wife Return to Swampscott, Mass.

PLYMOUTH, Vt., June 30. — President and Mrs. Coolidge, virtually assured of the recovery of the executive's 80-year-old father, Colonel John C. Coolidge, left here this morning at 11:17 a. m. to motor back to Swampscott, Mass., to resume their summer vacation.

Major James F. Coupal, the president's personal physician, remained to aid Dr. A. M. Cram, of Bridgewater, in treating the old gentleman.

On Thursday Dr. Arthur L. Chute, nationally known genito-urinary specialist from Boston, who operated on Colonel Coolidge last Saturday, will return to Plymouth to determine whether a second operation will be necessary.

11 Known Dead

picking up shoes, costly furs, dresses and hats heaved to the pavements and buried in broken glass, stucco and plaster.

Twenty four hours after the terrific shocks shook the city, Santa Barbara presented a spectacle.

Beds were everywhere — under trees, on lawns, in vacant lots, on the hills and streets.

Few houses were occupied, all families living in their yards.

Coffee was made over bonfires at central points and distributed. Little was done—everyone sat waiting.

Business was suspended, merchants not even being allowed to inspect their stores and offices.

Sandwiches and biscuits constituted meals for the most part.

Cigarettes, with stores closed, were bargained for as though pearls.

No Famine In City

There is no famine and will be none, city officials said. Plenty of plain food is available for all.

There is one spot in the stricken city of Santa Barbara which no person may approach today.

Anyone who tries, no matter what his business may be or how important will be turned back by armed guards and there will be no mistaking the nature of the orders the guards give.

The spot is a tract of several acres on which are situated the lumber yards of the Ambrose and Union lumber companies. The tract is just three blocks from the Southern Pacific station.

The reason no one can approach is that the entire area is flooded with oil from a set of Associated Oil Company tanks which were breached by the force of the quake yesterday.

Seventy thousand gallons of gasoline and 35,000 gallons of distillate have formed a great pool in the lumber yards.

A spark would start a conflagration which might destroy an already crippled city.

Houses were moved off thier foundation, household effects carried away and East Santa Barbara covered with a two-foot crust of mud when fifteen million gallons of water swept out of the broken Sheffield reservoir at the time of the first quake. The water missed the main part of the city.

City Under Martial Law.

At least two persons are missing, while 75 are injured.

The estimated property damage is $15,000,000 to $25,0000,000.

Not a stone, brick, cement or stucco structure in the city of 35,000 residents is intact.

Santa Barbarans looked upon ruined avenues and boulevards, block after block.

Three houses are burned ruins and only prompt action of firemen prevented the flames from sweeping the city. All house fires are prohibited.

The city is under martial law, soldiers and police are parading in front of the ruined homes and buildings. Up the city's main avenue of business—State street, wrecked buildings are on all sides.

Practically every fine building in Santa Barbara, with the exception of the Daily News, Lobero theater, Granada building, and the Federal building, is at least partially wrecked. Had the shake come an hour later loss of life would have been terrific.

Commercial Structures Leveled.

Commercial structures leveled or damaged were the American Legion building, First National bank, Upper Clock building, Unitarian church, San Marcos building, two telegraph offices, two telephone buildings, city hall, Presbyterian church, Knights of Columbus hall, St. Anthony's seminary, Old Mission, Morning Press, Holiday's hardware, Howard-Canfield, Paris store, Ferguson furniture, Carrillo hotel, Arlington hotel, Samark and California hotels, St. Francis hospital, Hotel Neal, Grand hotel, recreation center, parochial schools, Moose hall, Elks' building.

Every commercial building on State street was damaged to some extent.

All through the night workers dug in the wrecked four-story San Marcos building and the Arlington, where three or more bodies are believed buried.

Beautiful Anaoapa and Chapala streets did not suffer greatly, but along State street, between Sola street and the beach, great havoc was done.

Hotels and Churches Damaged.

The citys noted hotels and churches are greatly damaged.

All of the hotels are so badly wrecked, not one is habitable today.

The San Marcos building, where two persons were killed, is leveled to the street.

The Arlington and the New California hotel are demolished. The Carrillo hotel lobby is wrecked and the building split in many places.

The court house, city hall of records and the county jail are shattered beyond repair. The few prisoners in the county jail were ordered released. The city hall was undamaged.

The Congregational, Unitarian, Presbyterian church and the Church of Our Lady of Sorrows are blasted.

Caved in are the city Library and Elks' building. The front of the Elks' building is in the street.

Scene Resembles Shell-torn France.

The Upham hotel is sunk a foot in the ground.

The famous Samarkand is damaged.

El Canto and El Miracol hotels escaped serious damage.

Hotel Surf is wrecked.

The Potter theatre is in ruins.

The front of the new Virginia hotel is in the street.

Almost every single story structure on the west side of State street for a mile's distance is partially wrecked or split.

Walls of the Central hotel fell into the street, exposing littered bedrooms.

The buildings resemble shell-stormed France in war days.

Santa Barbaras fire and police force, augmented by 150 policemen from Los Angeles, is patrolling the city.

Two United States destroyers arrived this morning, bringing more sailors and marines.

rich and it will be able to take care of itself with small temporary aid. I arrived here immediately after the quake and have checked the situation thoroughly.

The city had a quake 113 years ago and from the ruins rose the fair Santa Barbara we knew yesterday.

From the stricken streets a better and more beautiful city will grow.

The thing to do is to build and Santa Barbara is starting this gigantic task today. There are plenty of bankers in all parts of the country ready to supply Santa Barbara's residents with money for this work.

Temporary burdens may be too great for the city, but all California is with us. We know the nation has stood loyally behind the city in the first critical hours. Los Angeles and surrounding cities gave much and offered all.

The death list is small and while all portions of the city have been damaged to some extent, the property damage will not be as great as estimated.

As did San Francisco, as all cities have given birth to greater things after disaster, so will Santa Barbara.

DEATH ROLL

Kommel Funeral Services.

Funeral services for Mrs. Lena Kommel, 67 years old, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in St. John's Lutheran church, Rev. J. C. Reinartz, will officiate. Burial will be made in Riverview cemetery. Deceased was a member of the Tribe of Ben Hur.

SAND CO. BUYS ANOTHER DIGGER

Another boat, to take the place of the dummy sand-digger, destroyed by fire near Babb island last Friday night, is being brought here today by the East Liverpool Sand company.

The boat was purchased from a concern which has been operating in the Allegheny river above Pittsburgh. It is expected to arrive this afternoon and will be placed in operation Wednesday morning. It has a capacity of 1,500 tons.

Insurance adjusters arrived here today to settle the claim. The boat, which sunk in about 20 feet of water, has not been moved.

Clark Re-appointed Member of State Industrial Board

COLUMBUS, June 30.—J. D. Clark, Dayton, today was reappointed by Governor Donahey as a member of the state industrial commission for a six-year term. His salary is $6,000 a year. Clark today completed his first full six-year term. Previously he served an unexpired term.

order to bring about a spirit of harmony.

Brookes Opposes McVay

"Mr. McVay was rejected as superintendent of schools at New Philadelphia by a full vote of the board," said President Brookes. "He lost out at Ambridge because of some friction. We don't want to wash the dirty linen of New Philadelphia and I believe that it would be better to select some other candidate. I cannot vote for Mr. McVey and will not under any circumstances be a party to his coming to East Liverpool."

"The state superintendent of public instruction says he is a good man," said Wilhelm.

"I will say he has made a wonderful campaign for the office," Brookes replied. "I have been bombarded with letters from his friends all over the state, urging his election. He made a great many friends in New Philadelphia because the board of education there did not have a newspaper who would present their side. I couldn't work with Mr. McVay in the event of his election here. I appeal to you for harmony. Let us work for the public good."

Salary On Sliding Scale

The salary of McVay, in the event of his election, was set at $4,200 for the first year, $4,300 for the second year, $4,400 for the third year and $4,500 for the last year. This proposal was supported by White, Sample and Wilhelm and opposed by Brookes and Weaver.

By the same plan, the salary of Prof. Bender in the event of his election was placed at $4,000 for the first year, $4,100 for the second year, $4,200 for the third year and $4,300 for the last year. All five members of the board, however, voted for this proposition.

President Brookes then moved the election of the Bluffton candidate, the motion being seconded by Weaver. Upon roll call, White, Sample and Wilhelm voted "no," while Brookes and Weaver voted "yes." The motion was declared lost.

Then White offered the name of McVay, seconded by Sample. He was declared elected when White, Sample and Wilhelm voted "yes" and Brookes and Weaver voted "no."

New Superintendent is 52.

Emmett, Gaston, clerk-treasurer of the board, was instructed to communicate with McVay, advising him that he had been elected as head of the East Liverpool schools by a vote of three to two. Doubt was expressed by Weaver and Brookes as to whether McVay would accept the place under such conditions.

The newly named superintendent is 52 years of age, married and has one daughter. He was superintendent of schools for nine years at Bellaire, and then went to Ambridge, Pa., where he served for a few years. From Ambridge he went to Mingo Junction and while there was called to New Philadelphia to take the place of the school chieftain who had been killed in an automobile accident.

When McVay took charge of the schools at New Philadelphia three years ago, his supporters claim, the high school was on half-day session and the entire school system was in need of reorgaanization. It is alleged that he caused the enmity of members of the board and a number of the teachers by certain changes which he made for the benefit of the schools.

Sample Lauds McVay.

"In New Philadelphia we found the business men almost as a unit in back of Mr. McVay," said R. W. Sample, following the meeting. "About the only opposition that could be found there was among the five members of the board of education. I believe that we have made a wise selection and that the East Liverpool schools will continue to grow and prosper under his leadership."

McVay is a member of the Methodist Episcopal church and the Rotary club, and is said to be affiliated with the Masonic order. He will assume his place here about September 1, when Superintendent Geiger goes to New Philadelphia.

Took Two Plasters to Remove This Stubborn Corn

—But It Never Came Back

"I had a callused corn that burned and ached until it made me sick all over," writes Miss Grace Graver, 869 Edison St., Indianapolis, Ind. "Any kind of shoe hurt it. A friend recommended 'Blue-jay' Plasters and I used two in succession, for mine was a stubborn corn. The first plaster relieved the pain at once. Two days later, the second plaster lifted the corn right out. That was about a year ago, and the corn never came back."

All over America the shapely little "Blue-jay" Plaster is bringing merciful relief. Its soft felt ring is encircling millions of corns—holding off the painful shoe pressure. The "Blue-jay" preparation is centered in this ring, right on top of the corn. An adhesive strip holds the plaster in place. In 48 hours, those corns lift right out—removed by "Blue-jay," a chemist's great discovery!

Some extra-stubborn corns may require a second plaster, but isn't this better than risking infection by paring corns at home? No chance for mistakes in getting on the right amount, as when you drop on a liquid remedy. In "Blue-jay" Plasters, the dose is measured for you by an able chemist, not too much—not too little—just the right amount to remove the corn gently. Hence, we recommend "Blue-jay" Plasters as better than any liquid, than even our own. Package of six, 25c at any druggist's. Try them. In two days write me your experience. "Blue-jay" Laboratories, 25th and Dearborn Sts., Chicago, Ill.

KEYMEN'S WAGE MEETING CLOSES

Reach Satisfactory Agreement With Pennsy.

Negotiations for revision of the wages and working conditions of the six thousand telegraphers of the Pennsylvania Railroad system has been brought to a successful conclusion after a series of conferences extending over several weeks.

Announcement to this effect was authorized today at the company's headquarters in Broad street station. The negotiations were conducted under the employes' representation plan adopted by the men and management of the Pennsylvania railroad. Adjustments of pay and changes in working conditions will be put into effect as a result of the mutual negotiations. A series of conferences and conclusions resulting therefrom will tend to cement more closely the friendly relationship between the management and its employes in the telegraph department. The sums appropriation and available for wage adjustment will be allotted to the various divisions and application to their positions on each division will be worked out jointly between the representative of the employes and the representatives of the management. The wage revision agreed upon has largely been the result of the work of the joint fact finding committee, appointed earlier in the year to represent both the management and the employes. This committee presented its report some weeks ago following which the negotiations were resumed and have now been carried to completion. The question whether employes of the telegraph department of the Pennsylvania company, all of whom are paid upon an hourly basis, shall work six days a week or seven days a week was thoroughly discussed in the conference.

The conclusion mutually reached was that this question should be left to the determination of the majority of the employes affected on each division.

During the conferences at which these questions were discussed the telegraph department employees were represented by 51 chairmen covering the various divisions of the system. They were headed by M. J. Kelly, general chairman of the craft.

The management was represented by C. I. Leiper, assistant general manager, eastern region, A. Enochs, Supt. wage bureau, eastern region; H. K. Brady, Supt. labor and wage bureau, central region; and W. W. Burell, Supt. labor and wage bureau, western region.

The best way to solve this cross-word puzzle is to run over the list of horizontal and vertical synonyms in search of evident or "easy" words. If horizontal, the word you are looking for must extend crosswise from the number to the first shaded stop on the right; if vertical, it must extend downward from the number to the first shaded stop below. When finished, the words should read equally well crosswise and downward.

David Belasco's Hit, "Gold Diggers," At Ceramic Theatre

"The Gold Diggers" at the Ceramic theater today and tomorrow, is the first of the series of Delasco plays. To do it justice, the services of such stars as Hope Hampton, Windham Standing and Louise Fazenda were secured, as well as Gertrude Short, Alec Francis, Jed Prouty, Arita Gillman, Peggy Brown, Margaret Seddon, Johnny Harron, Ann Cornwall, Edna Tichenor, Frances Ross, Marie Prade and Louise Beaudet.

It is the story of a group of young chorus girls, blase, pleasure-loving, happy-go-lucky, who see life in terms of extracting painlessly as much money as they can from wealthy men in search of diversion. Jerry Lamar is queen of them all, and, being a good girl with strong influence, she is able to keep them in check, and make them lead good lives; though the voice of slander is busy through the brash streets of Broadway, and the are supposed to be dangerous to men.

How to Solve Puzzle.

The best way to solve this cross-word puzzle is to run over the list of horizontal and vertical synonyms in search of evident or "easy" words. If horizontal, the word you are looking for must extend crosswise from the number to the first shaded stop on the right; if vertical, it must extend downward from the number to the first shaded stop below. When finished, the words should read equally well crosswise and downward.

David Belasco's Hit, "Gold Diggers," At Ceramic Theatre

"The Gold Diggers" at the Ceramic theater today and tomorrow, is the first of the series of Delasco plays. To do it justice, the services of such stars as Hope Hampton, Windham Standing and Louise Fazenda were secured, as well as Gertrude Short, Alec Francis, Jed Prouty, Arita Gillman, Peggy Brown, Margaret Seddon, Johnny Harron, Ann Cornwall, Edna Tichenor, Frances Ross, Marie Prade and Louise Beaudet.

It is the story of a group of young chorus girls, blase, pleasure-loving, happy-go-lucky, who see life in terms of extracting painlessly as much money as they can from wealthy men in search of diversion. Jerry Lamar is queen of them all, and, being a good girl with strong influence, she is able to keep them in check, and make them lead good lives; though the voice of slander is busy through the brash streets of Broadway, and the are supposed to be dangerous to men.

ANY WOMAN, any man, can now have a well-developed face and form. The whole, simple secret of a well-developed form is in the number of blood-cells in your body. You can now forget all the theoretical talk about diet, exercise, fad treatments, food-fats and fat-foods. Nothing is of any use, after all, except blood-cells!

Thin, run-down men and women, with bony necks, sunken cheeks, bony shoulders—all these are suffering from one thing—too few blood-cells. Science has proved that S.S.S. helps to make the rich red-blood-cells, which you need. Your blood is starving for these new blood-cells! Give your blood the blood-cells it needs—take S.S.S. the great scientific blood-cell maker. S.S.S. has done marvels, too, in making beautiful complexions, clearing the skin, making lips rosy red, the cheeks full and plump—because it rids the blood of impurities which cause pimples, blackheads, acne, blotches, eczema, tetter, rash and rheumatism, too. As the medicinal ingredients of S.S.S. are purely vegetable, it may be taken with perfect safety. This is why S.S.S., since 1826, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women a plus in their strength. EAST LIVERPOOL — AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

TUESDAY, JUNE 30, 1925.

Playgrounds Life-Savers

Figuratively speaking, a life-saving station was established in East Liverpool last night, when the municipal playground, Second and Washington streets, was formerly opened for the 1925 season by the recreation committee of the City Federation of Women's clubs.

Hundreds of children, eager to take advantage of privileges provided by the far-sighted club women, who not only recognize the need of wholesome outdoor exercise for Young America but also are cognizant of the need of supervised play as a means of curtailing the appalling annual toll of traffic accidents, visited the lot.

Recent automobile accidents in the East Liverpool district, one of which proved fatal, emphasize the danger of making recreation centers of the public highways. So far this year, Ohio's death toll in traffic crashes has surpassed the 1924 figures. However, a survey shows that wherever playlots are established comparatively few accidental deaths among children are reported as the youngsters are enjoying themselves in the recreation centers instead of being subjected to the hazards attendant on romping in the streets which should be free for traffic as originally intended.

Despite the demonstration of the value of play under the watchful eyes of trained supervisors, East Liverpool parents and big brothers and sisters appear to be lukewarm in their support of the movement. Their financial contributions on Playground Novelty Day fell far below the report of bygone years. In fact, including a surplus remaining when the playlot was closed last fall, the club federation has only $500 with which to meet the expense of maintaining the recreation center this summer. More funds are needed if the lot is to be kept open until the fall term of school.

There is one way out of the dilemma. Another Playground Day should be observed. Surely the people realize there can be no better investment than the expenditure of the necessary appropriation that will insure not only the safety of our children but also their happiness, upon which our own is so largely dependent. Playlots are a means of insuring peace of mind of motorists who will not have to worry so much about the possibility of running down a child, and fathers and mothers will be happy in the knowledge that their youngsters are enjoying outdoor exercise safely and sanely.

The New Calendar

A calendar with 13 months in it might be expected to be unlucky. And sure enough, the new calendar proposed by the league of nations, after urging from various quarters of the world, is unlucky. But only to this extent—that a lazy-minded world, content with existing institutions, usually objects to what is good for it.

The metric system, incomparably superior to other forms of counting and measuring used in the world, and especially superior to our English and American systems of weight and measures, has made little progress for generations. The civilized world still uses an awkward calendar adopted by Julius Caesar for the Roman empire nearly 2,000 years ago, a calendar with months of varying length and weeks not evenly divisible into either months or years.

The proposed calendar, worked out by international scientists, would provide 13 months of exactly four weeks each. Thus there would never be any doubt about when pay day came—or any other day. A particular day of the months would be the same day of the week in every month. Business reckoning, interest figuring, etc., would be simplified.

The 13 months would make 364 days. The regular day left would be New Year day, not belonging to any week but inserted as an extra between the old year and the new. Leap year day would come likewise, as a cipher in the calendar, in the middle of the year. The new month, called "Sol," would stand between June and July.

Yes, it sounds ridiculous the first time you think of it. But the idea grows.

Less Crude Labor

An unexpected result of the new immigration law is the loss of unskilled labor. The first 10 months' operation show, in a net gain of 35,000 skilled workmen but a loss of nearly 17,000 common laborers. Few laborers came, and more of them left the country.

This is exactly the opposite of past experience and of what most Americans expected. This country is pretty competent to furnish its own skilled labor. What it has wanted mainly in industrial immigration is raw labor to perform the hard and unpleasant tasks that natives scorn.

These official figures do not tell the whole story. There has been a considerable influx of crude labor from Mexico and the West Indies through bootleg immigration channels, and a little of the same thing from Canada. But at most, there has been no gain in the crude labor supply, either male or female, corresponding to the economic demand of the country.

This means a greater demand than ever for labor-saving machinery. It means also that a lot of Americans are going to be obliged to do more things for themselves—which won't hurt them.

Somebody suggests the appointment of a receiver for China. That would be better, anyway, than having several nations scrapping about who should be executor of the estate.

It isn't fair to call Dayton, Tenn., "Monkey Town," but how about other towns aping it?

Darwinism or no Darwinism, it's surprising how many people act as if they had just come down out of the trees.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, June 30.—There are all manners of ways of making what many New Yorkers consider one of the prime requisites of life—a flash. It is an old saw that the 'four flush" here is elegant in dividends. It has lifted the obscure into amazing opulence.

A head waiter by pre-arrangement was paid one hundred dollars the other night merely to come to a table, call the host by name and murmur politely: "The managment has asked me to say that nothing is too good for you, sir. The entire establishment is at your service."

There is a publishing firm in Jersey that will to all intents make a poet of a puddler. For a consideration they will prepare, print and issue for private circulation a book of "original poems" written ostensibly by the man who will pay the price.

And an Amsterdam garage owner offers an unusual conceit. He has for rent one of those low slung, rakish town cars where the chauffeur sits out in the sun. He will also furnish a driver in plum colored livery and a white Russian wolfhound to sit beside him like a page from Vanity Fair.

Thus the lady who wishes to hightone the multitudes at lunch, the play or ordinary call may do so for the reasonable sum of $25 an hour. A la-de-dah employment agency furnishes a smart housekeeping trio—a Jap valet, French maid and liveried butler—for the evening only.

It is said Jack Dempsey spurned $500 to leave his table one night in the old Palais Royal and join a well known broker from Wall Street in a rather intimate fashion at another table. He had often regaled friends with stories of "my pal Jack" and wanted to make good.

Every bell hop has received many extra dollars for paging some fellow dining with ab lond or what-is-it. It gives, it seems, an air of importance to be called away from the table several times. Harmless amusing stuff and a royal tribute to the great god Four Flush!

Two producers salvaged more than a million each out of the turbulent theatrical currents of last season. The lucky entrepeneurs were Arthur Hammerstein and Harry Frazee. Seven others are said to have made more than one hundred thousand. Also many went broke.

Most of us secretly dream of some heroic act in public and so my entire sympathy is with a rugged outlander in a 47th street cabaret. A gent in Spanish costume floated out on the dance floor with an etherial creature in chiffon. Suddenly and, it seemed to the outlander for no reason at all, he grabbed her roughly, slammed her to the floor and in a haughty fashion and pose calmly lit a cigarette. The visitor didn't know it was a part of the dance and before they could whirl away again he rushed out and socked the Spanish gent in the jaw.

My sole effort at heroics was to accept a challenge of a touring wrestler who met all comers at a county fair. What happened I have not the faintest idea but I do know that everything was shaken out of my pockets including the key to my hunting case silver watch.

In moments of great excitement people do strange things. In a hotel fire the other day a woman awakened in a smoke filled room tossed a bowl of goldfish out the window and began yelling for help. A New York playwright in crossing the English channel in a passenger plane reached for his hat as the plane dropped one hundred feet.

HASKIN'S LETTER

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Indian Head.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 30.—About 22 miles from the national capital, on a promontory overlooking the Potomac river is the tiny village of Indian Head. This little hamlet is so obscure that apparently nothing has ever been written about it. A search of the various encyclopedias and the files of the library of congress revealed no mention of it. And yet it is of vital importance to the people of the United States. In fact, it is so important that this is doubtless part of the reason for its being carefully guarded against publicity. For there is located the only government-owned powder plant.

Until a few years ago Indian Head was also the site of the naval proving grounds. They were the reason for its existence. About 1890 it was decided to remove the proving work from Annapolis and an area of land in Charles county was selected. A tiny community was dug out of this wilderness and thus Indian Head came into being. Its inhabitants consisted of the workmen, the few naval naval officers on duty there, and a marine guard. To this day many of these original workmen and their families still live there.

Until the time of the World war all of the guns and shells of the navy were tested at Indian Head. In 1918 work on new proving grounds was begun at Dahlgren, Virginia, and some of the proving work transferred there. This in a measure relieved the congestion of work which was caused by the increased demands of a nation at war. In 1921 all of this work was transferred to the Virginia grounds.

Motorists and visitors still find indications of the proving work that was formerly carried on at Indian Head. On the outskirts of the village the trees bear signs warning against the dropping of lighted matches or cigarettes because of unexploded shells in the vicinity. Along the narrow beach may be found pieces of shell and of steel armor plate which is twisted and shell-torn.

Powder Plant Opens.

With the adoption of smokeless powder in 1899 the navy established its own powder factory at Indian Head. The output of this plant before the war was increased from time to time until it was producing about 20,000 pounds a day. The increased demands of the war, however, necessitated the enlarging of the plant and brought many more people to this place. The laboratory became practically a training school for the technical force employed for inspection duty in connection with the purchase of explosives.

With this additional population and activity the town boomed—that is, in a modest way. More houses were needed and these were built by the Emergency Housing Corporation. A school was built, a community center, stores and banks came into existence. There is a small but comfortable hotel. But even with this growth the town still remained practically a closed corporation.

With the end of the war and the removal of the proving work the number of inhabitants dwindled. However, the town is unique in its self-sufficiency. It has little outside contact. While there are freight trains there is none for passengers. The only way to reach it is by a boat which runs three times a week, or by motor. The boat carries the mail.

The state of Maryland built an excellent dirt road which connects with the main highway. Practically all the way this road is overhung with trees and in the spring these are thick with honeysuckle. Washingtonians frequently take this trip, armed with picnic lunches which may be eaten in the woods beyond the village. There are many places overlooking the river where one may entertain himself watching the boats plying up and down. It gives one the sense of being many miles from the city and its crowds.

There are now perhaps 1,500 or 2,000 inhabitants of Indian Head. The school, which is partly administered by the federal government and partly by the state of Maryland, has 200 pupils. The grades extend through the high school grades. The village has its own hospital, own water works and electric plant. Many of the workmen have their own farms outside the town limits and raise their own vegetables. Some even raise their own tobacco. They are indeed sufficient unto themselves.

Life At Indian Head.

The big event of the year is the Charles county fair. This is held in the grounds of the community center and to it come the people of all the surrounding country. There is a great judging of jellies, knitting and livestock. The central figure in this is an old retired naval lieutenant who was stationed there when the grounds were opened, and has lived there ever since his retirement.

On the whole, life at Indian Head is rather quiet, and largely out-of-doors. In the summer the popular pastimes are swimming, fishing, boating and playing tennis. In the fall the duck shooting is said to be excellent. The families of the few officers stationed there may meet for a game of bridge, but there is comparatively little of the usual activity of a naval station. The golf fever seems to have skipped this community—perhaps because there appears to be no suitable location for a course.

Probably the thing which strikes the visiting motorist most forcibly is the speed limit and the zeal with which it is enforced. Upon arriving on the outskirts of the town one is greeted with a brilliant yellow sign informing him that the speed limit is 15 miles an hour. Of course this is not an unusual rate for a small town. There are many where the rate is 12. The remarkable point is the almost clairvoyant powers of the marine guard when it comes to detecting the speed of the motorist. Not long ago a party from Washington was astounded to have a guard step from the sentry box, hail them and inform them they were doing 16 and 20. Distinguishing between 15 and 16 miles an hour seems quite a feat to the average person.

It must be said that the curbing of the speeders is not confined to casual visitors. A naval officer on a tour of inspection was stopped and chided, and it is told that the son of one of the original inhabitants was told to leave the town because of his continued disregard for the speed rule. Even in the days before the motorcycle displaced the horse this rule was vigilantly enforced. A marine mounted on a horse would gallop after any offending motorist. An officer formerly attached to this station said he often wondered how this guard could tell how fast the motorist was going. Certainly he had no speedometer on his horse. Several theories for the strict enforcement of the speed limit have been advanced. One is that it would be dangerous to have high-powered motors thundering through on account of the powder stored there, and another is that the large number of children living there necessitate a low rate.

When driving through this isolated, slow-moving village it is difficult to realize just how important it is to the people of this country. Upon the work of this community largely depends the efficiency of the navy. The latest guns would be of little use without the powder manufactured there. Which proves that a town should not be judged by its exterior—or its speed limit.

AN OPERATION RECOMMENDED
Avoided by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Los Angeles, Cal.—"I cannot give too much praise to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for what it has done for me. My mother gave it to me when I was a girl 14 years old, and since then I have taken it when I feel run down or tired. I took it for three months before my two babies were born for I suffered with my back and had spells as if my heart was affected, and it helped me a lot. The doctors told me at one time that I would have to have an operation. I thought I would try 'Pinkham's,' as I call it, first. In two months I was all right and had no operation. I firmly believe 'Pinkham's' cured me. Everyone who saw me after that remarked that I looked so well. I only have to take medicine occasionally, not but I always keep a couple of bottles by me. I recommend it to women who speak to me about their health. I have also used your Sanative Wash and like it very much." — Mrs. E. GOULD, 4000 East Side Boulevard, Los Angeles, Cal.

Many letters have been received from women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after operations have been advised.

Playlots are a means of insuring peace of mind of motorists who will not have to worry so much about the possibility of running down a child, and fathers and mothers will be happy in the knowledge that their youngsters are enjoying outdoor exercise safely and sanely.

The New Calendar

A calendar with 13 months in it might be expected to be unlucky. And sure enough, the new calendar proposed by the league of nations, after urging from various quarters of the world, is unlucky. But only to this extent—that a lazy-minded world, content with existing institutions, usually objects to what is good for it.

The metric system, incomparably superior to other forms of counting and measuring used in the world, and especially superior to our English and American systems of weight and measures, has made little progress for generations. The civilized world still uses an awkward calendar adopted by Julius Caesar for the Roman empire nearly 2,000 years ago, a calendar with months of varying length and weeks not evenly divisible into either months or years.

The proposed calendar, worked out by international scientists, would provide 13 months of exactly four weeks each. Thus there would never be any doubt about when pay day came—or any other day. A particular day of the months would be the same day of the week in every month. Business reckoning, interest figuring, etc., would be simplified.

The 13 months would make 364 days. The regular day left would be New Year day, not belonging to any week but inserted as an extra between the old year and the new. Leap year day would come likewise, as a cipher in the calendar, in the middle of the year. The new month, called "Sol," would stand between June and July.

Yes, it sounds ridiculous the first time you think of it. But the idea grows.

Less Crude Labor

An unexpected result of the new immigration law is the loss of unskilled labor. The first 10 months' operation show, in a net gain of 35,000 skilled workmen but a loss of nearly 17,000 common laborers. Few laborers came, and more of them left the country.

This is exactly the opposite of past experience and of what most Americans expected. This country is pretty competent to furnish its own skilled labor. What it has wanted mainly in industrial immigration is raw labor to perform the hard and unpleasant tasks that natives scorn.

These official figures do not tell the whole story. There has been a considerable influx of crude labor from Mexico and the West Indies through bootleg immigration channels, and a little of the same thing from Canada. But at most, there has been no gain in the crude labor supply, either male or female, corresponding to the economic demand of the country.

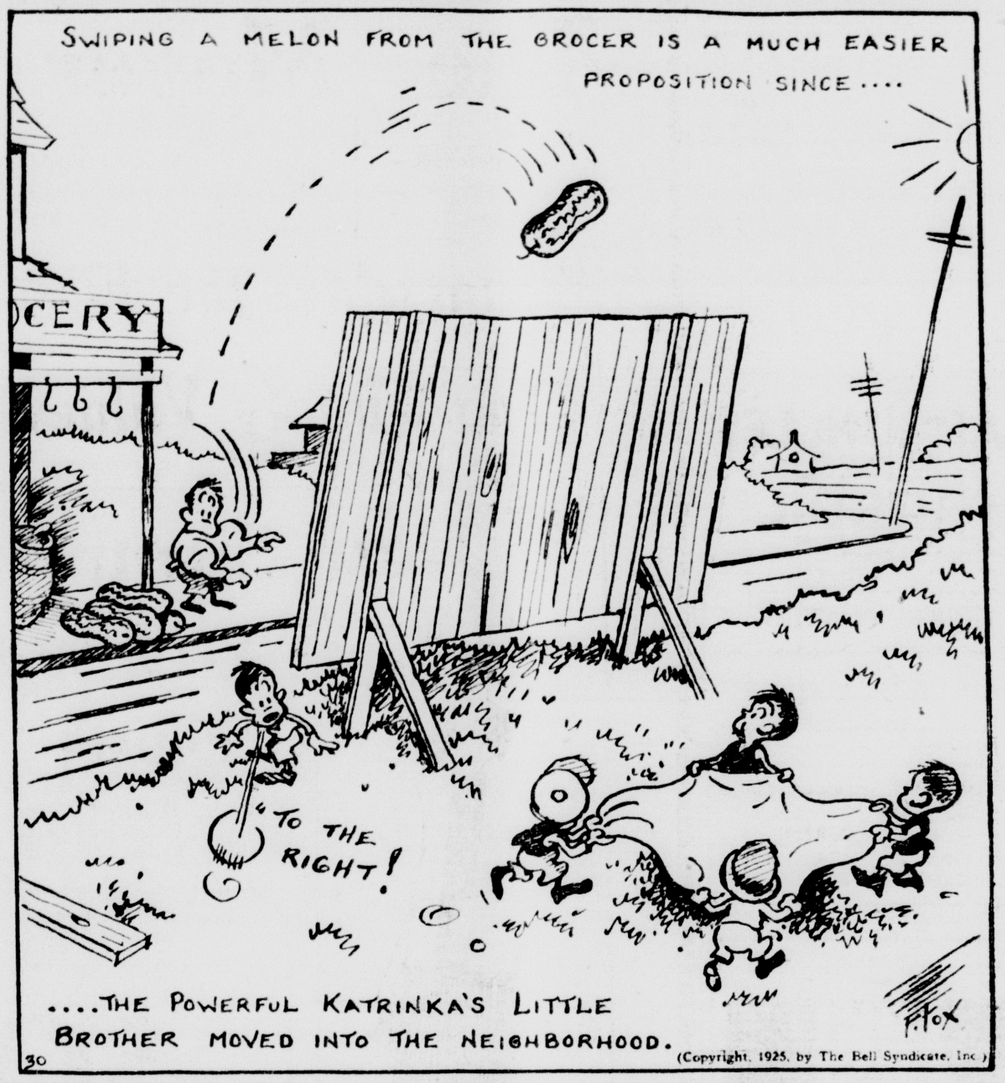
This means a greater demand than ever for labor-saving machinery. It means also that a lot of Americans are going to be obliged to do more things for themselves—which won't hurt them.

Somebody suggests the appointment of a receiver for China. That would be better, anyway, than having several nations scrapping about who should be executor of the estate.

It isn't fair to call Dayton, Tenn., "Monkey Town," but how about other towns aping it?

Darwinism or no Darwinism, it's surprising how many people act as if they had just come down out of the trees.

The Powerful Katrinka's Little Brother— By Fontaine Fox



NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, June 30.—There are all manners of ways of making what many New Yorkers consider one of the prime requisites of life—a flash. It is an old saw that the "four flush" here is elegant in dividends. It has lifted the obscure into amazing opulence.

A head waiter by pre-arrangement was paid one hundred dollars the other night merely to come to a table, call the host by name and murmur politely: "The managment has asked me to say that nothing is too good for you, sir. The entire establishment is at your service."

There is a publishing firm in Jersey that will to all intents make a poet of a puddler. For a consideration they will prepare, print and issue for private circulation a book of "original poems" written ostensibly by the man who will pay the price.

And an Amsterdam garage owner offers an unusual conceit. He has for rent one of those low slung, rakish town cars where the chauffeur sits out in the sun. He will also furnish a driver in plum colored livery and a white Russian wolfhound to sit beside him like a page from Vanity Fair.

Thus the lady who wishes to high-tone the multitudes at lunch, the play or ordinary call may do so for the reasonable sum of $25 an hour. A la-de-dah employment agency furnishes a smart housekeeping trio—a Jap valet, French maid and liveried butler—for the evening only.

It is said Jack Dempsey spurned $500 to leave his table one night in the old Palais Royal and join a well known broker from Wall Street in a rather intimate fashion at another table. He had often regaled friends with stories of "my pal Jack" and wanted to make good.

Every bell hop has received many extra dollars for paging some fellow dining with ab lond or what-is-it. It gives, it seems, an air of importance to be called away from the table several times. Harmless amusing stuff and a royal tribute to the great god Four Flush!

Two producers salvaged more than a million each out of the turbulent theatrical currents of last season. The lucky entrepeneurs were Arthur Hammerstein and Harry Frazee. Seven others are said to have made more than one hundred thousand. Also many went broke.

Most of us secretly dream of some heroic act in public and so my entire sympathy is with a rugged outlander in a 47th street cabaret. A gent in Spanish costume floated out on the dance floor with an etherial creature in chiffon. Suddenly and, it seemed to the outlander for no reason at all, he grabbed her roughly, slammed her to the floor and in a haughty fashion and pose calmly lit a cigarette. The visitor didn't know it was a part of the dance and before they could whirl away again he rushed out and socked the Spanish gent in the jaw.

My sole effort at heroics was to accept a challenge of a touring wrestler who met all comers at a county fair. What happened I have not the faintest idea but I do know that everything was shaken out of my pockets including the key to my hunting case silver watch.

In moments of great excitement people do strange things. In a hotel fire the other day a woman awakened in a smoke filled room tossed a bowl of goldfish out the window and began yelling for help. A New York playwright in crossing the English channel in a passenger plane reached for his hat as the plane dropped one hundred feet.

HASKIN'S LETTER

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Indian Head.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 30.—About 22 miles from the national capital, on a promontory overlooking the Potomac river is the tiny village of Indian Head. This little hamlet is so obscure that apparently nothing has ever been written about it. A search of the various encyclopedias and the files of the library of congress revealed no mention of it. And yet it is of vital importance to the people of the United States. In fact, it is so important that this is doubtless part of the reason for its being carefully guarded against publicity. For there is located the only government-owned powder plant.

Until a few years ago Indian Head was also the site of the naval proving grounds. They were the reason for its existence. About 1890 it was decided to remove the proving work from Annapolis and an area of land in Charles county was selected. A tiny community was dug out of this wilderness and thus Indian Head came into being. Its inhabitants consisted of the workmen, the few naval officers on duty there, and a marine guard. To this day many of these original workmen and their families still live there.

Until the time of the World war all of the guns and shells of the navy were tested at Indian Head. In 1918 work on new proving grounds was begun at Dahlgren, Virginia, and some of the proving work transferred there. This in a measure relieved the congestion of work which was caused by the increased demands of a nation at war. In 1921 all of this work was transferred to the Virginia grounds.

Motorists and visitors still find indications of the proving work that was formerly carried on at Indian Head. On the outskirts of the village the trees bear signs warning against the dropping of lighted matches or cigarettes because of unexploded shells in the vicinity. Along the narrow beach may be found pieces of shell and of steel armor plate which is twisted and shell-torn.

Powder Plant Opens.

With the adoption of smokeless powder in 1899 the navy established its own powder factory at Indian Head. The output of this plant before the war was increased from time to time until it was producing about 20,000 pounds a day. The increased demands of the war, however, necessitated the enlarging of the plant and brought many more people to this place. The laboratory became practically a training school for the technical force employed for inspection duty in connection with the purchase of explosives.

With this additional population and activity the town boomed—that is, in a modest way. More houses were needed and these were built by the Emergency Housing Corporation. A school was built, a community center, stores and banks came into existence. There is a small but comfortable hotel. But even with this growth the town still remained practically a closed corporation.

With the end of the war and the removal of the proving work the number of inhabitants dwindled. However, the town is unique in its self-sufficiency. It has little outside contact. While there are freight trains there is none for passengers. The only way to reach it is by a boat which runs three times a week, or by motor. The boat carries the mail.

The state of Maryland built an excellent dirt road which connects with the main highway. Practically all the way this road is overhung with trees and in the spring these are thick with honeysuckle. Washingtonians frequently take this trip, armed with picnic lunches which may be eaten in the woods beyond the village. There are many places overlooking the river where one may entertain himself watching the boats plying up and down. It gives one the sense of being many miles from the city and its crowds.

There are now perhaps 1,500 or 2,000 inhabitants of Indian Head. The school, which is partly administered by the federal government and partly by the state of Maryland, has 200 pupils. The grades extend through the high school grades. The village has its own hospital, own water works and electric plant. Many of the workmen have their own farms outside the town limits and raise their own vegetables. Some even raise their own tobacco. They are indeed sufficient unto themselves.

Life At Indian Head.

The big event of the year is the Charles county fair. This is held in the grounds of the community center and to it come the people of all the surrounding country. There is a great judging of jellies, knitting and livestock. The central figure in this is an old retired naval lieutenant who was stationed there when the grounds were opened, and has lived there ever since his retirement.

On the whole, life at Indian Head is rather quiet, and largely out-of-doors. In the summer the popular pastimes are swimming, fishing, boating and playing tennis. In the fall the duck shooting is said to be excellent. The families of the few officers stationed there may meet for a game of bridge, but there is comparatively little of the usual activity of a naval station. The golf fever seems to have skipped this community—perhaps because there appears to be no suitable location for a course.

Probably the thing which strikes the visiting motorist most forcibly is the speed limit and the zeal with which it is enforced. Upon arriving on the outskirts of the town one is greeted with a brilliant yellow sign informing him that the speed limit is 15 miles an hour. Of course this is not an unusual rate for a small town. There are many where the rate is 12. The remarkable point is the almost clairvoyant powers of the marine guard when it comes to detecting the speed of the motorist. Not long ago a party from Washington was astounded to have a guard step from the sentry box, hail them and inform them they were doing 16 and 20. Distinguishing between 15 and 16 miles an hour seems quite a feat to the average person.

It must be said that the curbing of the speeders is not confined to casual visitors. A naval officer on a tour of inspection was stopped and chided, and it is told that the son of one of the original inhabitants was told to leave the town because of his continued disregard for the speed rule. Even in the days before the motorcycle displaced the horse this rule was vigilantly enforced. A marine mounted on a horse would gallop after any offending motorist. An officer formerly attached to this station said he often wondered how this guard could tell how fast the motorist was going. Certainly he had no speedometer on his horse. Several theories for the strict enforcement of the speed limit have been advanced. One is that it would be dangerous to have high-powered motors thundering through on account of the powder stored there, and another is that the large number of children living there necessitate a low rate.

When driving through this isolated, slow-moving village it is difficult to realize just how important it is to the people of this country. Upon the work of this community largely depends the efficiency of the navy. The latest guns would be of little use without the powder manufactured there. Which proves that a town should not be judged by its exterior, —or its speed limit.

AN OPERATION RECOMMENDED

Avoided by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Los Angeles, Cal.—"I cannot give too much praise to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for what it has done for me. My mother gave it to me when I was a girl 14 years old, and since then I have taken it when I feel run down or tired. I took it for three months before my two babies were born for I suffered with my back and had spells as if my heart was affected, and it helped me a lot. The doctors told me at one time that I would have to have an operation. I thought I would try 'Pinkham's,' as I call it, first. In two months I was all right and had no operation. I firmly believe 'Pinkham's' cured me. Everyone who saw me after that remarked that I looked so well. I only have to take medicine occasionally, not but I always keep a couple of bottles by me. I recommend it to women who speak to me about their health. I have also used your Sanative Wash and like it very much." — Mrs. E. GOULD, 4000 East Side Boulevard, Los Angeles, Cal.

Many letters have been received from women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after operations have been advised.

STEEL MERGER IS REPORTED

Independent Companies May Shortly Pool Interests.

The Weirton Steel company, Follansbee Brothers company and Wheeling Steel company are included in a proposed merger of steel concerns as a rival of the United States Steel Corporation.

Cleveland advices state that a steel corporation of almost incredible grandeur has been put together on paper and is being shown to leading interests in more than a dozen large and small independent steel companies with plants all over the middle west and Ohio valley.

Plans appear to have gone no farther than discussion between some of the companies mentioned and officials will not admit entertaining the project, but the suggestions has been seriously made to include in one great corporation the Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Republic Iron & Steel, Otis Steel of Cleveland and others. One of the purposes is to create an organization as large as the United States Steel corporation and if all the companies mentioned in the report were actually to merge, the result would be very nearly that size.

There are two series of reports. The one circulating in Cleveland and Ohio mentions eleven companies as candidates for the merger, while a variation of that report adds the Bethlehem and Youngstown companies.

The other report, current in New York, has two mergers under consideration, one to consist of Otis and Midland Steel Products, both of Cleveland, Trumbull Steel of Warren, O., and United Alloy Steel of Canton, O., and the second to consist of Republic, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet & Tube and Inland Steel of Chicago.

The 11 companies understood to have been interviewed as possibilities for the one merger are following: Allegheny Steel, Pittsburgh; American Rolling Mills, Middletown, O.; Follansbee Brothers, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Mansfield Sheet & Tube Plate, Mansfield, O.; Otis Steel, Cleveland; Republic, Youngstown; Sharon Steel Hoop, Sharon, Pa.; Trumbull Steel, Warren, O.; United Alloy, Canton; Weirton Steel, Weirton and Steubenville, and Wheeling Steel Corporation.

NEW WATER POWER BILL IS DRAFTED

A new water power bill has been drafted and is ready for submission at any time which, while it follows in a general way the original Hugus-Keatley bill presented at the constitutional session of the legislature, has some differences.

One of the changes is that for the purpose of considering applications and granting licenses for water power projects, the governor shall be ex officio a member of the public service commission. Also the powers of the commission are somewhat enlarged, they must take into account the financial responsibility of an applicant and be sure the proposed project can be carried out. The provision which requires the payment of one per cent on the gross sales of power has not been changed otherwise than such payment no longer constitutes a portion of the contract between the state and the licensee.

The new bill enlarges the class of corporations which can be granted licenses, allowing licenses to those which supply water or light, heat and power by means of electricity, gas or water, while the old bill granted licenses only to those manufacturing, generating, supplying and selling energy or power produced from water as a motive force.

NEWS FROM TOWNS IN TRI-STATE DISTRICT

LISBON

M. K. Zimerman, West Park Ave. Phone 319-R. Lisbon, O.

MOTION FILED IN TAX ACTION

County Auditors Will Collect Inheritance Assessments.

The State Tax commission is now filing motions with Probate Judges to direct county auditors to appraise property that is subject to the inheritance tax, and the first of these motions has been filed with Probate Judge Lodge Riddle. In this case the court has directed County Auditor Charles E. Hamilton to determine the tax now due in the estate of Atlee Gobley, deceased, late of Knox township who died Feb. 20, 1920.

In this case Frank Gobley was named administrator, and the heirs were seven aunts and uncles of the deceased, all of whom succeed to the property. Each of the seven heirs have inherited $705.12 which is taxable at the rate of 7 per cent. With the tax due and the interest at 8 per cent which has been accumulating for these past years, there is now due the county $296.15.

It has been estimated that between 206 and 300 similar motions will be filed with the Probate court by the State Tax commission, and it is said that there is nothing left for the court to do but to grant such motion and order the county auditor to appraise the property that is subject to the inheritance tax. Only recently in this county a tax of over 2,00 was collected as inheritance tax and interest of many years standing, and all because the administrator of an estate was lax in his duty to the heirs of the estate. The court has pointed out that no reason should exist for such negligence, and that instead of money due heirs from an estate going to them, they are compelled to lose a large portion of their property because of the inactivity of administrators and executors.

In the case of the Gobley estate, the court has declared that letters written those interested have remained unanswered, and that the only course now left is to follow the petitions of the State Tax commission. Also, that in this case the interest for the unpaid inheritance tax is to be collected from Feb. 2, 1921.

At least a dozen other motions will be filed with the Probate court within the next fortnight, it has been explained, all bearing upon the same subject, which is one of the most far reaching ever attempted in this county, because of the fact so many people are interestd.

PYTHIAN SISTERS TO HOLD OUTING

The first outing of the Pythian Sisters of the Twentieth Ohio district, which includes a part of Mahoning, and all of Jefferson and Columbiana counties will be held at the county fair grounds, Lisbon, Wednesday, July 15. A similar event has been ordered for every Pythian Sister district in the state, and all Pythian Sisters and their families and members of the Knights of Pythias and their families have been invited to take part in the event.

Arrangements for the outing for this district are in charge of District Deputy Grand Chief, Emma Albright of Lisbon. The district includes lodges in Lisbon, Salem, Leetonia, East Palestine, Columbiana, Washingtonville, Rogers, Wellsville, East Liverpool, Salineville Irondale, Empire, New Somerset and Sebring.

There will be games, contests, stunts and free dancing in the afternoon and park-plan dancing in the evening.

Moore, and he was then given his liberty.

Released From Jail.

Charles Whitey, who was committed to the county jail from East Liverpool, on a charge of violating the liquor laws, was paroled by the county commissioners. He was given a credit for the number of days he has been in the custody of Sheriff George Wright, and made arrangements to discount the balance of the fine. He was released upon the recommendation of the committing court.

Two Handed Fines.

Charged with stealing parts of an automobile, which consisted of tire, tube and rim, Willis Armstrong and Thomas Walters of Lisbon were given a hearing before Mayor Frank E. Albrecht and fined $100 and costs each and sentenced to the county jail for a period of 30 days.

The court suspended the jail sentence upon the payment of the fine, of which $50 was paid down by each, and an arrangement made whereby the balance would be paid at a convenient period.

Lodged in Jail.

Charged with manufacturing liquor, Roy Bratt has been received at the county jail from the court of Mayor A. W. Ferren of East Palestine. Bratt was fined $750 and costs, and was received at the jail Sunday.

Questioned on Robbery.

Ray Estell, 11, of Lisbon, was questioned yesterday by Probate Judge Lodge Riddle in connection with the theft of money from the Nace drug store here last Friday evening when more than $100 was taken from a safe and cash register. The lad was brought into court by Probation Officer McShane.

The sale of the premises has been ordered, and a deed and distribution ordered. In this case, counsel fees have also been allowed Cochran and Crawford.

MOTION FILED IN TAX ACTION

County Auditors Will Collect Inheritance Assessments.

The State Tax commission is now filing motions with Probate Judges to direct county auditors to appraise property that is subject to the inheritance tax, and the first of these motions has been filed with Probate Judge Lodge Riddle. In this case the court has directed County Auditor Charles E. Hamilton to determine the tax now due in the estate of Atlee Gobley, deceased, late of Knox township who died Feb. 20, 1920.

In this case Frank Gobley was named administrator, and the heirs were seven aunts and uncles of the deceased, all of whom succeed to the property. Each of the seven heirs have inherited $705.12 which is taxable at the rate of 7 per cent. With the tax due and the interest at 8 per cent which has been accumulating for these past years, there is now due the county $296.15.

It has been estimated that between 206 and 300 similar motions will be filed with the Probate court by the State Tax commission, and it is said that there is nothing left for the court to do but to grant such motion and order the county auditor to appraise the property that is subject to the inheritance tax. Only recently in this county a tax of over 2,00 was collected as inheritance tax and interest of many years standing, and all because the administrator of an estate was lax in his duty to the heirs of the estate. The court has pointed out that no reason should exist for such negligence, and that instead of money due heirs from an estate going to them, they are compelled to lose a large portion of their property because of the inactivity of administrators and executors.

In the case of the Gobley estate, the court has declared that letters written those interested have remained unanswered, and that the only course now left is to follow the petitions of the State Tax commission. Also, that in this case the interest for the unpaid inheritance tax is to be collected from Feb. 2, 1921.

At least a dozen other motions will be filed with the Probate court within the next fortnight, it has been explained, all bearing upon the same subject, which is one of the most far reaching ever attempted in this county, because of the fact so many people are interestd.

Dempsey-Tunney Scrap On Labor Day Is Latest Fistic Plan

Wills Expected to Eliminate Himself In Weinert Battle

Some, However, Look Upon Negro as Winner; Greb Made 8 to 5 Favorite Over Walker, and Slattery 2½ to One Over Dave Shade; Principals in Benefit Show on Ground Tomorrow.

By DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, June 30.—In the fond expectation that Harry Wills will commit professional suicide by his showing against Charley Weiner on Thursday night, Jack Kearns and Billy Gibson were reported today to be cooking up a 10-round, no decision match between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney at Michigan City, Ind., on Labor Day.

Announcement of plans and specifications will be held in abeyance, it was said, until after the Wills-Weinert bout in order to see how the colored gent in the pugilistic wood pile conducts himself. If he fails to astound the populace, he will be deemed to have engaged in the business of self-elimination and the Dempsey-Tunney affair will be megaphoned as the only logical meeting for the championship.

If Wills wins impressively, the Michigan City date will be kept regardless, except that in this case the customary announcement will follow that no promoter has come forward with an acceptable offer for Dempsey and Wills and that, therefore, the champion has no alternative but to accept Tunney as a co-attraction.

As far as public opinion was concerned, however, Messrs. Kearns and Gibson can shoot without waiting to see the whites of their eyes.

A well-known bookmaker today quoted Wills as a 4 to 1 choice over Weinert and was willing to give a good price that Harry would win by a knockout. The same authority made Harry Grebb an 8 to 5 shot over Mickey Walker for their middleweight title bout the same evening, and placed Jimmy Slattery a 2½ to 1 choice over Dave Shade.

All of the principals in the extravaganza to be held for the benefit of Wills, Weinert, Greb, Walker, Slattery, Shade and the Italian hospital fund, will be on the ground within the next 24 hours. Greb will leave his camp at Atlantic City today, and, according to "Red" Mason, his manager, was never better. Wills is due in town from Southampton, L. I., before nightfall.

He probably will weigh as much as 215 pounds. This will give him a decided weight advantage over Weinert, who probably will come in at 190. When he will go out remains with Wills, who must win decisively or turn his attention to other and more peaceful pursuits. Many look for Wills to stub a figurative toe on the Weinert hurdle.

Walker will be the last principal to put in an appearance, present plans calling for him to remain at Summit, N. J., until tomorrow or even Thursday morning. He is said to fairly bristle with confidence, but the boys seem to think he is giving away too much in weight and strength.

RUTH WILL X-RAY INJURED ANKLE

BOSTON, June 30.—Between acts in his role of realtor, in an attempt to sell his South Sudbury farm, Babe Ruth, the home run king, hobbled over to the office of an x-ray specialist today to have a picture taken of his lame right ankle.

Ruth said he was convinced that he was suffering from a broken bone and decided to have the x-ray picture taken before going to New York.

"I may be laid up for a while, but I won't be out of baseball for the rest of the season, I hope," said Ruth.

Ruth's chief concern was not his swollen right ankle but his South Sudbury farm. A part of the second part has been obtained and Ruth has about clinched the reale state deal.

DUE WARNING
Is Issued by Mr. Sweetser That He Is After Golf Crown

By Norman E. Brown.

Three summers ago a blushing young collegiate named Jess Sweetser stepped into the national golfing limelight by winning the Metropolitan amateur tourney, one of the important sectional events of the year.

His superb golf won the praise of all critics. They felt that it presaged greater things. It did. A couple of months later, playing the same brand of golf, he won the national amateur golf championship. In a field of the game's leading simon pures he fought his way to the semi-finals and then with a game that couldn't be denied turned back Chick Evans, Jr., perennial western champ and national champ in 1916 and 1920, by the score of 3 up and 2 to play.

Now Sweetser, after two years of somewhat erratic golf, has won the Metropolitan amateur again and the game he played in winning that tourney and has displayed in all his matches to date has given indications that he will make a sincere bid for the national amateur later this season.

There's a good chance, if he holds to his game, that he will repeat his feat of 1922. The main stumbling block in his road, of course, is Robert Jones of Atlanta, 1924 champ and the man who fought it out with Willie MacFarlane for 36 holes in a vain effort to win the national open title this year.

While the east now claims Sweetser, he is a westerner by birth, a native of St. Louis.

It was during his college preparatory days that he first drew attention as a golfer. He won the school championship at Exeter three successive years and captained the golf team his final year.

At Yale he improved his game. In 1920 he won the national intercollegiate title. The following year he lost out in the finals to J. Simpson Dean of Princeton on what was apparently an off day for Jess.

In 1921 Sweetser proved one of the sensations of the national amateur tourney when he gave Chick Evans a hectic battle in the third round of play.

Sweetser was foiled in his efforts to retain the national amateur in 1923 when Max Marston checked him in the finals.

The last two seasons Sweetser's studies and work have taken much time from his golf—as any golfer would put it. His game, up to this spring, has been a bit off color. That he intends making a serious effort to enter the front ranks again is indicated by his play to date.

Coveleskie, the ancient spitball heaver, pitched the Senators to a 4 to 1 decision over the Athletics, cutting the latter's lead to a half game. Gray met his first defeat of the season and is now tied with the Pole for leading honors with nine victories in ten games.

Zivic Lays Off Ring Work; Visiting With Friends Here

Pittsburgh Boxer Will Permit Injured Hands to Get Well Before Donning Mitts Again.

Looking fine and feeling, he says, as fit as the proverbial fiddle, Jack Zivic, Pittsburgh boxer, and one of the leading lightweights of the country, is enjoying a respite from ring duties while he visits with Ray and Byron Foutts, of this city.

Zivic recently finished a series of gruelling scraps, at the close of which he felt somewhat the worse for wear. And now he will mark time for a short period in order to permit injuries to heal.

His right wrist is still bandaged and contusions on the back of his left hand still bear evidence of hard battles. His left hand carried the bruises in his recent scrap with Cuddy DeMarco and the prior bout with Lew Tendler, the Philadelphia southpaw. Zivic previously had knocked out Tendler, which, by the way, was the only K. O. in Lew's long career, but lost the decision in a second go. Zivic is not an alibi artist. He realized the extent of his injuries before he fought Tendler in their second scrap, and before he met DeMarco. But no one but himself and Bronson, his manager, were acquainted with the fact. Zivic said yesterday "the fights had been billed and I felt it was my duty, injuries or no injuries, to go through with them instead of calling them off, as I could have done."

There is no doubt that the bruises on Zivic's left hand impaired, to a great extent, the efficacy of his ripping left hook, one of his most crushing blows.

He left handed Nate Goldman into a kayo some time ago at Motor Square, Pittsburgh, which is proof enough of his assertions.

And Archie Walker met a similar fate in a similar manner. Zivic dropped Walker three times by swift lefts to the chin before a sharp right hook knocked Walker as cold as canned mackerel. This was at New York quite a few moons ago.

"So," said Jack, "it's up to me to let that hand get well."

Zivic made 137 pounds for DeMarco, but fears that one of these days he'll be compelled to enter the welterweight ranks. He's hovering around the 145-pound mark now.

The status of a welterweight would not be unwelcome to the Pittsburgh lad. Zivic is still in his early twenties, and takes good care of himself. Consequently, he should go a long way before he gives up the game.

Tailenders Force Leaders to Limit to Win 2-1 Clash

Singles by L. McMath and Greene in Last Inning Produce Tally That Gives Chester One-run Victory Over Babcock-Wilcox; McGeehan and Powell in Fine Form.

Compelled to go an extra inning for a decision, the top and bottom clubs of the City Industrial league battled in a fast contest on Smith field last night that was replete with snappy playing, Chester finally winning from B. & W., 2 to 1.

With two down in their final plate appearance in the eighth and the score 1 to 1, L. McMath singled sharply to right. Greene did likewise. McGonigal fumbled the ball and McMath, by a great run, crossed the plate.

Previous to the fateful eighth, McGeehan, pitching for B. & W., had allowed but three widely scattered hits. He also had allowed but one pass and fielded in a sensational manner. In all he accepted seven chances. Twice he caught pop flies, the first being from Jackson's bat and enabling him to retire Cochrane on first for a double play, the second by a run back retiring the side in the third as he caught that from Greene's club. In the fourth he forced out P. Cebula at third by a great stop and throw. His throwing to first on his other assists stood out.

Altogether it was a hard game for McGeehan to lose. He made two of the three hits which his team annexed during the contest. On both occasions he was left on the bags.

Powell mowed down his opponents in all but the second inning when a couple of errors behind him gave the visitors but one run. But for these miscues he doubtless would have blanked the Klondyke contingent. C. Wagner and McGeehan were the only members of the opposition to connect. He gave no walks, did not hit any one and whiffed eight men.

P. Bennett, the veteran, started on first for Chester, but gave way to Jackson after the first inning.

Cochrane played snappily on third base, accepting four chances and especially featuring by his throwing to first base.

L. McMath, though he booted one drive, did some attractive fielding back of first base. On one of these he retired the veteran, Pete Eck, by a quick throw from that territory.

P. Cebula had two miscues, one being costly and made for the only run scored by B. & W.

E. Bennett in right and L. McMath on second did some fancy fly catching during the game.

The contest was perhaps the fastest played this season. Except in two or three instances both sides were retired in regular order.

Green, in right for Chester, did not have a fielding chance, but his timely safety in the eighth, thanks to McGonigal's miscue, won the game for Chester.

Almost a thousand fans saw the game.

M. Cebula, the team's ace, sat on the bench during the entire contest. He doubtless will go in against Laughlin on Tuesday evening.

Digman, out of town for the day, was the only regular absent from the line-up.

P. Cebula, hit in the first, scored on F. Marshall's single to right which McGonigal fumbled.

McGonigal was safe on P. Cebula's error in the second and reached second on McGeehan's single to right from where he scored as L. McMath booted A. Morris' drive.

Dempsey-Tunney Scrap On Labor Day Is Latest Fistic Plan

Wills Expected to Eliminate Himself In Weinert Battle

Some, However, Look Upon Negro as Winner; Greb Made 8 to 5 Favorite Over Walker, and Slattery 2½ to One Over Dave Shade; Principals in Benefit Show on Ground Tomorrow.

By DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, June 30.—In the fond expectation that Harry Wills will commit professional suicide by his showing against Charley Weiner on Thursday night, Jack Kearns and Billy Gibson were reported today to be cooking up a 10-round, no decision match between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney at Michigan City, Ind., on Labor Day.

Announcement of plans and specifications will be held in abeyance, it was said, until after the Wills-Weinert bout in order to see how the colored gent in the pugilistic wood pile conducts himself. If he fails to astound the populace, he will be deemed to have engaged in the business of self-elimination and the Dempsey-Tunney affair will be megaphoned as the only logical meeting for the championship.

If Wills wins impressively, the Michigan City date will be kept regardless, except that in this case the customary announcement will follow that no promoter has come forward with an acceptable offer for Dempsey and Wills and that, therefore, the champion has no alternative but to accept Tunney as a co-attraction.

As far as public opinion was concerned, however, Messrs. Kearns and Gibson can shoot without waiting to see the whites of their eyes.

A well-known bookmaker today quoted Wills as a 4 to 1 choice over Weinert and was willing to give a good price that Harry would win by a knockout. The same authority made Harry Grebb an 8 to 5 shot over Mickey Walker for their middleweight title bout the same evening, and placed Jimmy Slattery a 2½ to 1 choice over Dave Shade.

All of the principals in the extravaganza to be held for the benefit of Wills, Weinert, Greb, Walker, Slattery, Shade and the Italian hospital fund, will be on the ground within the next 24 hours. Greb will leave his camp at Atlantic City today, and, according to "Red" Mason, his manager, was never better. Wills is due in town from Southampton, L. I., before nightfall.

He probably will weigh as much as 215 pounds. This will give him a decided weight advantage over Weinert, who probably will come in at 190. When he will go out remains with Wills, who must win decisively or turn his attention to other and more peaceful pursuits. Many look for Wills to stub a figurative toe on the Weinert hurdle.

Walker will be the last principal to put in an appearance, present plans calling for him to remain at Summit, N. J., until tomorrow or even Thursday morning. He is said to fairly bristle with confidence, but the boys seem to think he is giving away too much in weight and strength.

RUTH WILL X-RAY INJURED ANKLE

BOSTON, June 30.—Between acts in his role of realtor, in an attempt to sell his South Sudbury farm, Babe Ruth, the home run king, hobbled over to the office of an x-ray specialist today to have a picture taken of his lame right ankle.

Ruth said he was convinced that he was suffering from a broken bone and decided to have the x-ray picture taken before going to New York.

"I may be laid up for a while, but I won't be out of baseball for the rest of the season, I hope," said Ruth.

Ruth's chief concern was not his swollen right ankle but his South Sudbury farm. A part of the second part has been obtained and Ruth has about clinched the reale state deal.

WELLSVILLE TILT IS CALLED OFF

Because of wet grounds the K. T. K. and Wellsville City industrial league games at the latter's diamond was postponed on Monday evening.

DUE WARNING

By Norman E. Brown.

Three summers ago a blushing young collegiate named Jess Sweetser stepped into the national golfing limelight by winning the Metropolitan amateur tourney, one of the important sectional events of the year.

His superb golf won the praise of all critics. They felt that it presaged greater things. It did. A couple of months later, playing the same brand of golf, he won the national amateur golf championship. In a field of the game's leading simon pures he fought his way to the semi-finals and then with a game that couldn't be denied turned back Chick Evans, Jr., perennial western champ and national champ in 1916 and 1920, by the score of 3 up and 2 to play.

Now Sweetser, after two years of somewhat erratic golf, has won the Metropolitan amateur again and the game he played in winning that tourney and has displayed in all his matches to date has given indications that he will make a sincere bid for the national amateur later this season.

There's a good chance, if he holds to his game, that he will repeat his feat of 1922. The main stumbling block in his road, of course, is Robert Jones of Atlanta, 1924 champ and the man who fought it out with Willie MacFarlane for 36 holes in a vain effort to win the national open title this year.

While the east now claims Sweetser, he is a westerner by birth, a native of St. Louis.

It was during his college preparatory days that he first drew attention as a golfer. He won the school championship at Exeter three successive years and captained the golf team his final year.

At Yale he improved his game. In 1920 he won the national intercollegiate title. The following year he lost out in the finals to J. Simpson Dean of Princeton on what was apparently an off day for Jess.

In 1921 Sweetser proved one of the sensations of the national amateur tourney when he gave Chick Evans a hectic battle in the third round of play.

Sweetser was foiled in his efforts to retain the national amateur in 1923 when Max Marston checked him in the finals.

The last two seasons Sweetser's studies and work have taken much time from his golf—as any golfer would put it. His game, up to this spring, has been a bit off color. That he intends making a serious effort to enter the front ranks again is indicated by his play to date.

Zivic Lays Off Ring Work; Visiting With Friends Here

Pittsburgh Boxer Will Permit Injured Hands to Get Well Before Donning Mitts Again.

Looking fine and feeling, he says, as fit as the proverbial fiddle, Jack Zivic, Pittsburgh boxer, and one of the leading lightweights of the country, is enjoying a respite from ring duties while he visits with Ray and Byron Foutts, of this city.

Zivic recently finished a series of gruelling scraps, at the close of which he felt somewhat the worse for wear. And now he will mark time for a short period in order to permit injuries to heal.

His right wrist is still bandaged and contusions on the back of his left hand still bear evidence of hard battles. His left hand carried the bruises in his recent scrap with Cuddy DeMarco and the prior bout with Lew Tendler, the Philadelphia southpaw. Zivic previously had knocked out Tendler, which, by the way, was the only K. O. in Lew's long career, but lost the decision in a second go. Zivic is not an alibi artist. He realized the extent of his injuries before he fought Tendler in their second scrap, and before he met DeMarco. But no one but himself and Bronson, his manager, were acquainted with the fact. Zivic said yesterday "the fights had been billed and I felt it was my duty, injuries or no injuries, to go through with them instead of calling them off, as I could have done."

There is no doubt that the bruises on Zivic's left hand impaired, to a great extent, the efficacy of his ripping left hook, one of his most crushing blows.

He left handed Nate Goldman into a kayo some time ago at Motor Square, Pittsburgh, which is proof enough of his assertions.

And Archie Walker met a similar fate in a similar manner. Zivic dropped Walker three times by swift lefts to the chin before a sharp right hook knocked Walker as cold as canned mackerel. This was at New York quite a few moons ago.

"So," said Jack, "it's up to me to let that hand get well."

Zivic made 137 pounds for DeMarco, but fears that one of these days he'll be compelled to enter the welterweight ranks. He's hovering around the 145-pound mark now.

The status of a welterweight would not be unwelcome to the Pittsburgh lad. Zivic is still in his early twenties, and takes good care of himself. Consequently, he should go a long way before he gives up the game.

Tailenders Force Leaders to Limit to Win 2-1 Clash

Singles by L. McMath and Greene in Last Inning Produce Tally That Gives Chester One-run Victory Over Babcock-Wilcox; McGeehan and Powell in Fine Form.

Compelled to go an extra inning for a decision, the top and bottom clubs of the City Industrial league battled in a fast contest on Smith field last night that was replete with snappy playing, Chester finally winning from B. & W., 2 to 1.

With two down in their final plate appearance in the eighth and the score 1 to 1, L. McMath singled sharply to right. Greene did likewise. McGonigal fumbled the ball and McMath, by a great run, crossed the plate.

Previous to the fateful eighth, McGeehan, pitching for B. & W., had allowed but three widely scattered hits. He also had allowed but one pass and fielded in a sensational manner. In all he accepted seven chances. Twice he caught pop flies, the first being from Jackson's bat and enabling him to retire Cochrane on first for a double play, the second by a run back retiring the side in the third as he caught that from Greene's club. In the fourth he forced out P. Cebula at third by a great stop and throw. His throwing to first on his other assists stood out.

Altogether it was a hard game for McGeehan to lose. He made two of the three hits which his team annexed during the contest. On both occasions he was left on the bags.

Powell mowed down his opponents in all but the second inning when a couple of errors behind him gave the visitors but one run. But for these miscues he doubtless would have blanked the Klondyke contingent. C. Wagner and McGeehan were the only members of the opposition to connect. He gave no walks, did not hit any one and whiffed eight men.

P. Bennett, the veteran, started on first for Chester, but gave way to Jackson after the first inning.

Cochrane played snappily on third base, accepting four chances and especially featuring by his throwing to first base.

L. McMath, though he booted one drive, did some attractive fielding back of first base. On one of these he retired the veteran, Pete Eck, by a quick throw from that territory.

P. Cebula had two miscues, one being costly and made for the only run scored by B. & W.

E. Bennett in right and L. McMath on second did some fancy fly catching during the game.

The contest was perhaps the fastest played this season. Except in two or three instances both sides were retired in regular order.

Green, in right for Chester, did not have a fielding chance, but his timely safety in the eighth, thanks to McGonigal's miscue, won the game for Chester.

Almost a thousand fans saw the game.

M. Cebula, the team's ace, sat on the bench during the entire contest. He doubtless will go in against Laughlin on Tuesday evening.

Digman, out of town for the day, was the only regular absent from the line-up.

P. Cebula, hit in the first, scored on F. Marshall's single to right which McGonigal fumbled.

McGonigal was safe on P. Cebula's error in the second and reached second on McGeehan's single to right from where he scored as L. McMath booted A. Morris' drive.

EAST END

CHURCH BUILDING PLANS DISCUSSED

Members of the building committee of the Pennsylvania Avenue Church of Christ met last evening in the church. Plans connected with the erection of a new two story structure on the front of the present building were discussed.

The committee is composed of Rev. A. J. Travers, Ralph Smith, H. E. Stoddard, John Pearson, Walter Bennett, T. M. Fullerton and Thomas Lampe.

Conducting Raids.

Beaver county officials and state troopers continue active in raids on liquor dealers and gamblers. Number of warrants have been made during the past week and the alleged offenders held under bail to await the action of the grand jury.

Mid-week Services.

Pastors will be in charge of mid-week prayer services tomorrow evening in the various churches of this section of the city.

Local Leaguers Downed.

Babcock-Wilcox team of the Industrial league dropped a hard fought game to Chester last evening on the latter's diamond. It was one of the best played games of the year and was witnessed by a large crowd including many from this section.

Community Club Meeting.

Members of the Community club will meet this evening with Mrs. Margaret Bairmore at her home in Erie street. Program has been arranged by the committee.

Eureka Circle To Meet.

Weekly meeting of Eureka circle No. 86, Protected Home Circle, will be held this evening in the Hill building, Mulberry street.

Tagging The Bases

For the eleventh time this season, the Yanks failed to carry a two-game winning streak on to another victory, the Red Sox maltreating Ferguson and Shawkey cake-walking in, 10 to 5.

The Tigers brought their percentage up to the .500 mark by taking a double fall out of the Indians, 4 to 1 and 7 to 4. Dauss pitched laudable ball in the first game and Karr got a shellacking in the second.

Eddie Collins' homer in the eighth saved the White Sox from a shutout but it didn't save them from a 5 to 2 beating by the Browns. Mogridge was at his left handed best.

Vance threw them right past the Phillies, while the Dodgers smote a succession of pitchers for 15 hits and won, 8 to 3.

Japan is the fourth largest consumer of American raw cotton.

CHURCH BUILDING PLANS DISCUSSED

Members of the building committee of the Pennsylvania Avenue Church of Christ met last evening in the church. Plans connected with the erection of a new two story structure on the front of the present building were discussed.

The committee is composed of Rev. A. J. Travers, Ralph Smith, H. E. Stoddard, John Pearson, Walter Bennett, T. M. Fullerton and Thomas Lampe.

Conducting Raids.

Beaver county officials and state troopers continue active in raids on liquor dealers and gamblers. Number of warrants have been made during the past week and the alleged offenders held under bail to await the action of the grand jury.

Mid-week Services.

Pastors will be in charge of mid-week prayer services tomorrow evening in the various churches of this section of the city.

Local Leaguers Downed.

Babcock-Wilcox team of the Industrial league dropped a hard fought game to Chester last evening on the latter's diamond. It was one of the best played games of the year and was witnessed by a large crowd including many from this section.

Community Club Meeting.

Members of the Community club will meet this evening with Mrs. Margaret Bairmore at her home in Erie street. Program has been arranged by the committee.

Eureka Circle To Meet.

Weekly meeting of Eureka circle No. 86, Protected Home Circle, will be held this evening in the Hill building, Mulberry street.

Tagging The Bases

For the eleventh time this season, the Yanks failed to carry a two-game winning streak on to another victory, the Red Sox maltreating Ferguson and Shawkey cake-walking in, 10 to 5.

The Tigers brought their percentage up to the .500 mark by taking a double fall out of the Indians, 4 to 1 and 7 to 4. Dauss pitched laudable ball in the first game and Karr got a shellacking in the second.

Eddie Collins' homer in the eighth saved the White Sox from a shutout but it didn't save them from a 5 to 2 beating by the Browns. Mogridge was at his left handed best.

Vance threw them right past the Phillies, while the Dodgers smote a succession of pitchers for 15 hits and won, 8 to 3.

Japan is the fourth largest consumer of American raw cotton.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

The Chinese riots and multiple civil wars frighten upper class Chinese and drive them to foreign countries.

That's bad for China. Many of the upper class, the moron, parasite, spendthrift class so carefully described here in "society news" could be spared advantageously.

But 'real work is done by trained minds and any really able mind usually has several generations of training behind it — although the owner may not know it. The slowest thoroughbred horse can run faster than the fastest cart horse.

That was proved in the French revolution, on which the French republic is based. The revolution was created by the greatest minds in France, they prepared the soil in advance. It was carried through by educated men exclusively—Danton, Mirabeau, Robespierre, Marat.

The workers of the lower class howled around the guillotine, demanding more heads but did nothing of importance except supply numbers.

Unthinking in the revolution, they were just as unthinking when Napoleon herded them together and drove them around Europe to be shot for his glory.

They kissed him on his imperial coat, as they had howled for the royal head of Louis. The Chinese will miss their thinking men. Their departure will make it easy for Europe to continue in control of huge China.

Mr. Anderson, recently released from prison—he says he was not guilty—has definite plans for his new secret society, the A. P. P. P. P. A. or "American, Prohibition, Protestant Protective, Patriotic Alliance."

That alliance will unite with the Ku Klux Klan to drive from office Governor Smith and prevent his nomination for the presidency by the Democrats.

It's an interesting program, but if the Rev. Dr. Burchard were alive he could tell Mr. Anderson that such plans sometimes go wrong.

Dr. Burchard has only three letters, R. R. R., as against Mr. Anderson's six, but the three Burchard words, "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion" contained the nucleus of the Anderson idea.

Nevertheless they defeated Blaine, whom Burchard wanted to help.

Nature seems also to be turning "modernist," with the accompanying indifference to established respectabilities and taboos.

The other day in one single storm lightning struck the Natural History museum in New York, as you have read, set fire to a hospital and shattered the great cross on top of St. Patrick's cathedral.

Seven Men Fined Total of $2,800 on Dry Law Charges

Fines totaling $2,800 were assessed against seven alleged violators of the prohibition law by Mayor Charles Brown in police court last night. Another man is being held in jail in default of $1,000 bond for a hearing Tuesday afternoon.

Those fined last night were: Harry Anderson, Walnut street, $1,000; Thomas Morgan, Charles Kail, George Lawton, Tony Carney, Charles Thomas and Everett Cunningham, $300 each. All except Morgan and Anderson made arrangements to settle their fines and were released.

Albert Watkin, Ridgeway avenue, pleaded not guilty when arraigned yesterday and will be given a trial this afternoon.

All were charged with selling intoxicating liquor and were arrested on warrants. Police have other warrants which probably will be served within the next few days.

NEW PHILADELPHIA MAN AND F. P. GEIGER WILL EXCHANGE POSTS SEPT. 1

BROOKES AND WEAVER CAST THEIR BALLOTS FOR BLUFFTON, O., EDUCATOR

Successful Applicant, Chosen From Field of 80, is Elected at Monday Meeting for Four-Year Term at Annual Salary Ranging From $4,200 to $4,500.

Charles S. McVay, superintendent of the public schools at New Philadelphia for approximately three years and who was recently ousted when F. P. Geiger, of this city, was elected to the post, was named head of the East Liverpool public schools for a term of four years at a stormy session of the board of education in the high school building last night.

He was elected on the votes of D. F. White, R. W. Sample and George Wilhelm. President J. H. Brookes and F. T. Weaver supported the candidacy of C. Edward Bender of Bluffton, O., whom they declared to be a compromise candidate for T. O. Trescott, of Ravenna, their first choice for the office.

McVay's salary, by a vote of three to two, was fixed at $4,200 for the first year, with an increase of $100 per year for the next three years. He is said to have been receiving $4,000 per year as superintendent of the New Philadelphia schools.

The New Philadelphia educator was named from a field of approximately 80 candidates. The field, however, last week had narrowed down to two applicants—McVay and Trescott. In a test vote taken at a special meeting last week, Trescott was practically eliminated when but two votes could be mustered to support him. Bender was then entered as a "dark horse."

Plea for "Harmony" Candidate.

At the beginning of the discussion, President J. H. Brookes made a plea for a "harmony" candidate, one for whom a unanimous vote could be cast. White entered the name of McVay for the place, while Brookes placed the name of Bender before the board.

"A very able gentleman," was the remark of Wilhelm when President Brookes offered the name of the Bluffton educator. White explained that after a careful study of the field of applicants he felt himself duty-bound to support McVay as his first choice.

Sample said that he would not stand in the way of the election of Bender if the other members of the board supported him and, furthermore, he would be willing to make the vote unanimous.

Wilhelm declared that he could not see his way clear to vote for Bender as his first choice, believing McVay to be the better man. Brookes declared that he had been willing to eliminate the candidacy of T. O. Trescott, believing that the Bluffton educator might be considered as a compromise. He expressed willingness to vote for one of five or six others or for any of the 80 aspirants, excepting McVay, in

Mrs. Henrietta Elkins and Mrs. Louisa Curby Victims.

Two aged women are in a serious condition today as the result of injuries which they sustained in falls.

Mrs. Henrietta Elkins, 75, sustained a broken left shoulder and bruises when she fell down the stairway in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Hilliard, Summit lane and East alley, at 3:30 o'clock this morning. Mrs. Elkins was alone in the house at the time of the accident.

She had arisen from her bed and, in passing through the dark hallway to another room, she became confused and fell down the stairs. Neighbors, hearing the sound of her fall and moans broke in the door and found her lying at the foot of the stairs. She was unconscious for about two hours. Dr. A. J. Michaels attended her.

Mrs. Louisa G. Curby, 85, 313 West Third street, sustained a compound fracture of the right hip in a fall down the front steps of her home Saturday afternoon.

She was taken to the city hospital where an X-ray examination of the injury was made Sunday by Dr. Michaels. Because of her advanced age, her condition is regarded as serious. She is the mother of R. B. Curby, assistant cashier of the Dollar Savings bank.

RESUME DEBT PARLEY IN U. S.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—The Italian-American debt negotiations were resumed at the treasury today.

TEAR BOMB LETS GO; CLERKS FLEE

A half dozen or more persons in the Guttridge & Rand store in the Diamond, were forced to flee at 5 o'clock last evening when Patrolman Norman McFarland accidentally discharged his mace containing one of the tear bombs, recently purchased by the safety department.

McFarland was explaining the operation of the mace to a party of employes and customers, when the bomb was accidentally set off. Several of thees in the room were caught by the smoke, but managed to reach the outsidee before they were affected.

All members of the police department have been equipped with the tear bomb maces to thwart hold-ups and robberies and to disperse mobs. The gas leaves no evil after effects, but will cause temporary blindness.

HOMELESS FED BY RED CROSS

SANTA BARBARA, June 30.—This was a city of makeshift today.

All cafes, stores, markets and theatres were closed.

Red Cross workers fed the homeless at stands in the streets. Sandwiches and black coffee was the universal menu.

Benches and boxes formed the equipment of any army of news workers. There were no typewriters. Automobile batteries furnished "juice" for the telegraph instruments.

Handbills were issued in lieu of newspapers.

Not a man was shaved.

Sheds made temporary telegraph offices and the city council sat in the street.

FOUR INJURED AS Y. & O. CAR SMASHES AUTO

Three-year-old Child Suffers Fractured Skull.

CROSSING CRASH

Engine of Sydney Young's Coupe Stalls as Car Nears.

A three-year old child suffered a fractured skull and three other persons less seriously hurt, when a northbound Y. & O. passenger car crashed into a stalled automobile at Gilmore's crossing, about 12 miles north of here, at 7 o'clock last night.

The injured:

JAMES, three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Young, of Laurel lane, fractured skull; condition serious.

MRS. HELEN YOUNG, child's mother, back injured and scalp lacerated.

SYDNEY YOUNG, her husband, deep gash on forehead and hand.

UNIDENTIFIED 12-YEAR-OLD BOY lacerations about face and head.

Young and his family had driven to a farm house near Gilmore's stop to purchase eggs. Young had completed his purchases and, in turning the machine, backed onto the tracks from a side road.

When the machine, a coupe, was on the tracks the engine stalled and before Young could start it, the automobile was struck by the approaching car.

The cowcather of the street car first struck the machine leaving its imprint in the side of the automobile. The injured were carried into a nearby residence and brought to the City hospital by a passing automobile. Dr. W. A. Hobbs dressed their injuries. Young and the youth, who accompanied him, were discharged from the hospital last night, but Mrs. Young and her son remained in the institution.

The automobile was badly wrecked.

Two Minor Fires Throw New Terror Into Ravaged City

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., June 30.—Two minor fires threw new terror into this ravished city today. The flames, however, were quickly controlled and no damage done nor was the city seriously threatened by fire.

One of the flares was a burning truck in the damaged business section and the other a rubbish fire, temporarily out of control in the historic Patio De Lagerra at the city plaza.

While plans were made at a mass meeting of welfare workers and officials to care for the needy, and hungry, food and bedding and various supplies poured into Santa Barbara. Los Angeles, Ventura, Oxnard and many nearby cities dispatched truckload after truckload of supplies and food.

11 KNOWN DEAD ARE FOUND IN QUAKE-WRECKED SANTA BARBARA

BODIES MANGLED

Property Damage is Estimated as High as $25,000,000.

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., June 30.—While slight tremors continued, corps of workers braved the wreckage area in earthquake stricken Santa Barbara today and recovered two bodies from the debris of the Arlington hotel, making a total of 11 known dead.

The newly found bodies were those of B. R. Hancock, son of a Los Angeles banker, and Mrs. C. R. Perkins, wife of a former vice president of the C. B. & Q railroad.

Fear More Tremors.

Both bodies were found under tons of huge concrete blocks which had been removed by steam shovels.

The bodies were maimed almost beyond recognition.

Another body was reported to have been sighted in the wreckage at the Arlington hotel.

The tremors early today did no great damage, merely shaking down loose bricks and stones.

The weather was extremely sultry and fog came drifting into the city with cooling sea breezes. It was regarded by many old timers in the city as "typical earthquake' weather and more tremors were feared.

Women Brave and Tireless.

Santa Barbara's women are brave and tireless. For hours they have served coffee and sandwiches from tents to police, firemen and workers.

Many women worked all night in the coffee booths, many men have been conscripted as laborers by the city. They are digging in the debris on State street and are removing piles or bricks from the streets and are

NEWELL FARE IS APPROVED

Seven-cent Rate on Car Line is Effective Tomorrow.

Seven-cent street car fare will be effective on the Newell-East Liverpool line tomorrow.

The interstate commerce commission, before which the proposed increase in tariffs was filed more than a month ago, by the Newell Street Railway and Bridge company, gave their approval to the increase in failing to take any action within 30 days because no objections were filed.

The Hancock county court this week approved the increased rate for that part of the line within the county. The East Liverpool city council voted the preparation of an ordinance granting the company permission to collect the seven-cent fare within East Liverpool at a recent meeting.

The pay-as-you-enter plan will be used.

The line has been operating at a loss for several years on the five-cent fare basis, according to Fred B. Lawrence, secretary-treasurer of the company.

QUAKES AFFECT OLD VOLCANO

HONOLULU, June 30. — Large sulphur patches have developed in the firepit of Kilauea, a volcano near here, following the earthquakes which shook Montana and California, according to a cable from Dr. Thomas Jaggar, volcano expert.

Dr. Jaggar stated today that there was no reason to expect a corresponding earth movement in the islands, but said the appearance of sulphur patches indicated an early return of lava.

In commenting on the Santa Barbara earthquake, Dr. Jaggar declared such a tremor was expected by men who have studied the faults in that section of the country.

FALL PRIMARY FOR MUNICIPAL JUDGE ORDERED

CLERK VOTE, TOO

New Judicial District Created, is Crabbe's Opinion.

COLUMBUS, June 30. — Attorney General Crabbe ruled today that a primary must be held next autumn for nomination of candidates for election in November as judge and clerk of the new East Liverpool municipal court. The ruling also held that the act creating the court set up a new judicial district co-terminous with the boundaries of the city and Liverpool township.

The question was submitted by J. W. Moore, clerk of the board of deputy state supervisors of elections for Columbiana county, when candidates failed to file petitions for nomination for judge in the primary.

Chief Deputy J. S. Hilbert and Clerk J. W. Moore, of the Columbiana county election board, at noon today had not received an official copy of the attorney general's ruling on the municipal court question, but, on the face of news dispatches, interpreted the opinion to mean a special primary, in which both the city and township electors shall have the privilege of voting, must be held in the fall.

This means the machinery for the court vote will be set up following the municipal primaries on August 11. Inasmuch as the township voters have no voice in municipal primaries, the judgeship and clerkship could not be voted upon them.

KIWANIS CLUB MEETS THURSDAY

Report of the recent convention of Kiwanis International which was held at St. Paul last week, will be given by Immediate Past Governor R. C. Heddleston at the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis club in the Larkins annex, Market street, Thursday noon.

The attendance prize will be furnished by O. O. Allison, Chester banker.

SCHOOL BOARD VOTES USE OF BUILDINGS FOR BIBLE CLASSES

Religious Instruction is Adopted After Warm Discussion.

BROOKES OPPOSES

Authorize Part Time Course and Night School for Workers.

Notwithstanding the opposition of President J. H. Brookes, who threatened a court injunction, the board of education, at an adjourned session in the high school building, last night, granted the Ministerial association permission to conduct classes in religious education in the schools "as indicated by their questions and answers," beginning at the opening of the fall term.

The vote on the proposition was four to one, Members Sample, Wilhelm, White and Weaver supporting the plan, while Brookes, who has fought the suggestion from the beginning, voted against it.

Warned of Court Fight

"I have been notified that you will be met with an injunction and this matter will be settled in the courts," Brookes informed the board after the motion had been introduced by Sample and seconded by White.

"Can we employ the president ... the board to defend us in the courts?" asked Sample, directing his question at the presiding officer.

"No you certainly cannot," was Brooke's reply.

Other members of the board smiled, but offered no comment.

The question of using the school buildings for classes in religious education has been hanging fire for about two months, following a request from the Ministerial association that these classes be assembled in the schools instead of the churches.

About a month ago, Attorney General C. C. Crabbe was asked to rule upon the legality of the proposal. He replied that a recent ruling of the supreme court was examined and that

The committee includes G. L. and Harry Brokaw, J. H. Smith and W. S. Stevenson. The attendance prize furnished by William Shaw was awarded to J. H. Smith. In the absence of President W. S. Foulks, Emmett Myler, vice-president, presided.

Wives of the members will be guests at next Monday's dinner at which officers will be elected.

SPIRIT OF FRANCISCAN FRIARS WHO FOUNDED SANTA BARBARA RISES TO NEW HEIGHTS AS STEPS ARE TAKEN TODAY TO REBUILD STRICKEN CITY

BY COPELAND C. BURG.

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., June 30.—The spirit of the Franciscan Friars who founded this city in 1781 rose to new heights today.

While the dust was unsettled from its earthquake-shaken streets, while bricks still fell from its historic missions and noted hotels, and while minor earth tremors continued, Santa Barbara prepared to build a new and more beautiful city.

With the same spirit with which was builded a new Johnstown, a new San Francisco and a new Galveston, Santa Barbarans pledged themselves to build again and better.

The shadow of the Casa De La Guerra, the historic patio of which Richard Dana told in his famous "Two Years Before the Mast," the city's prominent citizens gathered beneath an ancient pepper tree and arranged to "back to the limit" the new city to come from the wrecked buildings and streets of the "city that was."

Ruin On All Sides.

From the old mission, built in 1786, the best preserved of all California's old missions, to the new California hotel, opened last week, there is ruin in Santa Barbara. Down along State street, the principal thoroughfare of the city, runs an unending story of disaster. Common bricks are seen standing beside $25 pairs of shoes thrown from shops catering to Santa Barbara's millionaires. Gowns from Paris are blowing from broken shop windows. A parrot in an old Spanish cage sputters in a ruined patio, half-filled with brick and mortar from the wrecks of modern store buildings on all sides. But from these scenes California's city of the rich turned its eyes.

In alleys and on brick piles in the streets, architects spread out plans and designs.

Old Spanish words used in California architecture filled the air.

Santa Barbara planned its new Alhambra.

From the suburbs of Montecito, where millionaires' lawns and polo fields were strewn with debris, to the humble Spanish, Mexican and Chinese sections in the heart of the city, new buildings, homes, grounds, and streets were destroyed.

Row on row, the homes of some of America's richest families sparkled in the sun today, but walls were cracked, chimneys down, gardens wrecked and windows broken.

Millionaires' Homes Damaged.

Like a blue book of wealth and social power read the list of damaged Montecito homes, including those of Mrs. John Mitchell, formerly Lolita Armour, of Chicago; Mrs. Harry French Knight, widow of Hobart Moore, the "wheat cornerer;" Mrs. Henry E. Bothin, San Francisco; F. F. Peabody, of collar fame, and his wife, formerly Kathleen Burke, war worker; William H. Bliss, New York; Robert Wood Bliss, minister to Sweden; David Gray, Detroit automobile king; David E. Jones, Chicago; William G. McAdoo, Los Angeles; Walter E. Hodges, president of the Santa Fe railway; C. K. G. Billings, of race track lore; George Owen Knapp, Chicago millionaire, and Mrs. Colin Campbell, Washington, D. C., beauty, sister of Joseph Leiter.

Then there was Max Fleischmann, the Cincinnati yeast king, who came from his partially wrecked home in the nearby Carpenteria valley to give $5,000 to Santa Barbara's relief fund.

"Tell the world Santa Barbara can care for its own," said Fleischmann. "The disaster is great but we all will build a new and better in our beloved city."

And Santa Barbara gratefully took the money of Fleischmann and the Montecito colony, but turned in the new day for its real strength to "the spirit of the Franciscans."

"Carry On," is Slogan.

In the warmpth of the sunny California morning there gathered at the old mission all classes. From Montecito rolled luxurious limousines. From Mexican Town walked shawled women with wrinkled, brown faces

There were no tears.

Theer were no tears.

Then from a doorway in the ruins of the old mission came Father Superior Augustine to give his blessing and to ask God to guide his folk in their new works.

Father Augustine prayed and said: "There is a spirit of the Franciscan Fathers that cannot die. It is this spirit that has just prompted me to order all the fathers to remain at the old mission. It is badly damaged but we will stay here and with the rest of Santa Barbara build and restore as the fathers before us. We shall 'carry on' for the order in meeting this disaster as the Franciscan Fathers met the terrors of the west more than a century ago. And the Holy Father bless you all."

York, burning out the pews and destroying the altar.

In old days the faithful would have expected a miracle to put out the fire. But in these days, nature seems to know no favoritism, church, cathedral, that cure souls or hospital where bodies are treated, or museum that disturbs weak religious souls, by proving that the earth is a billion years old, and that Noah's ark could not have carried one per cent of living creatures. They are alike to nature and her laws. The lightning strikes one as it does the other.

"Let him that deserves it wear the palm."

One large palm should be worn by a Yankee moving picture press agent, now discussed by Englishmen. The British had decided that Americans must cease invading the empire with their moving pictures, "presenting false ideas of life."

Then along came the press agent from America with his precious film "insured for a million dollars." In Southampton that guileful American told an innocent British colonel that he ought to escort that film to London and have moving pictures taken of his fine regiment and band, advertise the noble British soldier and stimulate recruiting.

And, the poor Britisher "fell." He marched his men, band playing through the streets of London escorting the American film right up to the office of the moving picture concern. Then light dawned on him and now he says "I am fed up, sick and tired of the whole business. The Americans are too clever for us."

We are not exactly that; we can't write half as well as Shakespeare or borrow as well as Balfour. But, we do have good press agents.

James M. Reid, rich contractor, leaves this will: "None of my children can have a cent of my money until he reaches the age of 50 years. I do this in the hope and expectation that at 50 they will have developed a greater degree of respect and consideration for their father than they have shown during my lifetime."

an opinion would be given as soon as possible. The ruling has not been made.

Act Without Crabbe's Ruling.

Proponents and opponents of the plan were heard by the board about two weeks ago, when Rev. Dr. Frank G. Fowler, chairman of the religions education committee of the Ministerial association, was questioned at length regarding the pastors' plan. It was these "questions and answers" which were referred to in the motion approved by the board last night.

The issue was taken up and disposed of last night with little discussion. Proponents of the plan declared that the attorney general had been given ample time to rule, and inasmuch as his decision would not end the controversy, that there was no need for further delay.

"The court is the best place to decide this anyway," remarked Wilhelm. "We'll know then just where we stand."

President Brookes sought to have incorporated in the motion that teachers without certificates might be employed to teach the classes in religious education, but the other four members objected to the language and his amendment was blocked.

School Sessions for Workers.

The board also went on record as favoring the establishment of part time classes for children between the ages of 16 and 18 years, who are forced to leave school to seek employment on certificates issued by the superintendent, and also night classes for adult workers.

One resolution approved by the board provides that children between 16 and 18 years, holding certificates permitting them to leave school, shall attend classes four hours each week at which common school subjects shall be taught. These classes will meet in the Sixth street school from 1 to 5 o'clock each afternoon. It is pointed out that there are about 120 children between these ages in the school district, which would mean an enrollment of about 24 for each class, each afternoon. The teacher of this department would be required to visit the pupils at their place of employment during the forenoon. The federal, state and city governments would bear the expense of this course.

Class in Ceramics

The other resolution provides for the organization of classe for adults at which ceramics would be specialized in, these classes meeting in the high school building at nights. The state and federal government will pay two-thirds of the salary of the instructor of this class who shall have technical training.

Here is a copy of the two resolutions approved unanimously by the board:

"BE IT RESOLVED by the board of education of the East Liverpool city school district:

"First: That in addition to and in connection with the regular daily public school system of this city, we establish a part time school and that with the beginning of the school term of 1925-1926 and continuing each and every school term thereafter all children between the ages of sixteen and eighteen who have been excused from the regular sessions on age and school certificates and have entered industry be required to attend such part time school for not to exceed eight hours each week, and receive instruction therein supplemental to their daily occupation or which may increase their civic and vocational intelligence—such school to be held at the Sixth street building unless otherwise ordered by this board.

"Second: That the offer of the state of Ohio to aid in the employment of the teacher or teachers of such part time school be accepted and that the clerk of this board forward a copy of this resolution to the supervisor of the state department of vocational training."

"Be it resolved by the board of education of the East Liverpool city school district:

"First—That in response to the joint request of the manufacturers and workmen engaged in the ceramic industry in East Liverpool and environs we establish an evening industrial school at the high school building under the provisions of the Smith-Hughes law and beginning the first of the next school term and continuing all said term and each succeeding term until otherwise ordered, a class or classes be held in said building and instruction be given therein in the study of ceramics, chemistry, ceramic shop arithmetic, physics, modeling, free hand and mechanical drawing and other studies pertaining to the ceramic industry and tending to supplement the daily emplyoment of pottery workers and improving them along the lines of their daily occupation; said course to be open to all men, women and children who are engaged in the ceramic industry and to be under the supervision of the board of education.

"Second—That the offer of the state of Ohio to aid in the employment of the teacher or teachers of such class or classes be accepted and that the clerk of this board forward a copy of this resolution to the supervisor of the state department of vocational training."

COL. COOLIDGE IS RECOVERING

President and Wife Return to Swampscott, Mass.

PLYMOUTH, Vt., June 30. — President and Mrs. Coolidge, virtually assured of the recovery of the executive's 80-year-old father, Colonel John C. Coolidge, left here this morning at 11:17 a. m. to motor back to Swampscott, Mass., to resume their summer vacation.

Major James F. Coupal, the president's personal physician, remained to aid Dr. A. M. Cram, of Bridgewater, in treating the old gentleman.

On Thursday Dr. Arthur L. Chute, nationally known genito-urinary specialist from Boston, who operated on Colonel Coolidge last Saturday, will return to Plymouth to determine whether a second operation will be necessary.

picking up shoes, costly furs, dresses and hats heaved to the pavements and buried in broken glass, stucco and plaster.

Twenty four hours after the terrific shocks shook the city, Santa Barbara presented a spectacle.

Beds were everywhere — under trees, on lawns, in vacant lots, on the hills and streets.

Few houses were occupied, all families living in their yards.

Coffee was made over bonfires at central points and distributed. Little was done—everyone sat waiting.

Business was suspended, merchants not even being allowed to inspect their stores and offices.

Sandwiches and biscuits constituted meals for the most part.

Cigarettes, with stores closed, were bargained for as though pearls.

No Famine In City

There is no famine and will be none, city officials said. Plenty of plain food is available for all.

There is one spot in the stricken city of Santa Barbara which no person may approach today.

Anyone who tries, no matter what his business may be or how important will be turned back by armed guards and there will be no mistaking the nature of the orders the guards give.

The spot is a tract of several acres on which are situated the lumber yards of the Ambrose and Union lumber companies. The tract is just three blocks from the Southern Pacific station.

The reason no one can approach is that the entire area is flooded with oil from a set of Associated Oil Company tanks which were breached by the force of the quake yesterday.

Seventy thousand gallons of gasoline and 35,000 gallons of distillate have formed a great pool in the lumber yards.

A spark would start a conflagration which might destroy an already crippled city.

Houses were moved off thier foundation, household effects carried away and East Santa Barbara covered with a two-foot crust of mud when fifteen million gallons of water swept out of the broken Sheffield reservoir at the time of the first quake. The water missed the main part of the city.

City Under Martial Law.

At least two persons are missing, while 75 are injured.

The estimated property damage is $15,000,000 to $25,0000,000.

Not a stone, brick, cement or stucco structure in the city of 35,000 residents is intact.

Santa Barbarans looked upon ruined avenues and boulevards, block after block.

Three houses are burned ruins and only prompt action of firemen prevented the flames from sweeping the city. All house fires are prohibited.

The city is under martial law, soldiers and police are parading in front of the ruined homes and buildings. Up the city's main avenue of business—State street, wrecked buildings are on all sides.

Practically every fine building in Santa Barbara, with the exception of the Daily News, Lobero theater, Granada building, and the Federal building, is at least partially wrecked. Had the shake come an hour later loss of life would have been terrific.

Commercial Structures Leveled.

Commercial structures leveled or damaged were the American Legion building, First National bank, Upper Clock building, Unitarian church, San Marcos building, two telegraph offices, two telephone buildings, city hall, Presbyterian church, Knights of Columbus hall, St. Anthony's seminary, Old Mission, Morning Press, Holiday's hardware, Howard-Canfield, Paris store, Ferguson furniture, Carrillo hotel, Arlington hotel, Samark and California hotels, St. Francis hospital, Hotel Neal, Grand hotel, recreation center, parochial schools, Moose hall, Elks' building.

Every commercial building on State street was damaged to some extent.

All through the night workers dug in the wrecked four-story San Marcos building and the Arlington, where three or more bodies are believed buried.

Beautiful Anaoapa and Chapala streets did not suffer greatly, but along State street, between Sola street and the beach, great havoc was done.

Hotels and Churches Damaged.

The citys noted hotels and churches are greatly damaged.

All of the hotels are so badly wrecked, not one is habitable today.

The San Marcos building, where two persons were killed, is leveled to the street.

The Arlington and the New California hotel are demolished. The Carrillo hotel lobby is wrecked and the building split in many places.

The court house, city hall of records and the county jail are shattered beyond repair. The few prisoners in the county jail were ordered released. The city hall was undamaged.

The Congregational, Unitarian, Presbyterian church and the Church of Our Lady of Sorrows are blasted.

Caved in are the city Library and Elks' building. The front of the Elks' building is in the street.

Scene Resembles Shell-torn France.

The Upham hotel is sunk a foot in the ground.

The famous Samarkand is damaged.

El Canto and El Miracol hotels escaped serious damage.

Hotel Surf is wrecked.

The Potter theatre is in ruins.

The front of the new Virginia hotel is in the street.

Almost every single story structure on the west side of State street for a mile's distance is partially wrecked or split.

Walls of the Central hotel fell into the street, exposing littered bedrooms.

The buildings resemble shell-stormed France in war days.

Santa Barbaras fire and police force, augmented by 150 policemen from Los Angeles, is patrolling the city.

Two United States destroyers arrived this morning, bringing more sailors and marines.

rich and it will be able to take care of itself with small temporary aid. I arrived here immediately after the quake and have checked the situation thoroughly.

The city had a quake 113 years ago and from the ruins rose the fair Santa Barbara we knew yesterday.

From the stricken streets a better and more beautiful city will grow.

The thing to do is to build and Santa Barbara is starting this gigantic task today. There are plenty of bankers in all parts of the country ready to supply Santa Barbara's residents with money for this work.

Temporary burdens may be too great for the city, but all California is with us. We know the nation has stood loyally behind the city in the first critical hours. Los Angeles and surrounding cities gave much and offered all.

The death list is small and while all portions of the city have been damaged to some extent, the property damage will not be as great as estimated.

As did San Francisco, as all cities have given birth to greater things after disaster, so will Santa Barbara.

SAND CO. BUYS ANOTHER DIGGER

Another boat, to take the place of the dummy sand-digger, destroyed by fire near Babb island last Friday night, is being brought here today by the East Liverpool Sand company.

The boat was purchased from a concern which has been operating in the Allegheny river above Pittsburgh. It is expected to arrive this afternoon and will be placed in operation Wednesday morning. It has a capacity of 1,500 tons.

Insurance adjusters arrived here today to settle the claim. The boat, which sunk in about 20 feet of water, has not been moved.

McVay Named Head

order to bring about a spirit of harmony.

Brookes Opposes McVay

"Mr. McVay was rejected as superintendent of schools at New Philadelphia by a full vote of the board," said President Brookes. "He lost out at Ambridge because of some friction. We don't want to wash the dirty linen of New Philadelphia and I believe that it would be better to select some other candidate. I cannot vote for Mr. McVey and will not under any circumstances be a party to his coming to East Liverpool."

"The state superintendent of public instruction says he is a good man," said Wilhelm.

"I will say he has made a wonderful campaign for the office," Brookes replied. "I have been bombarded with letters from his friends all over the state, urging his election. He made a great many friends in New Philadelphia because the board of education there did not have a newspaper who would present their side. I couldn't work with Mr. McVay in the event of his election here. I appeal to you for harmony. Let us work for the public good."

Salary On Sliding Scale

The salary of McVay, in the event of his election, was set at $4,200 for the first year, $4,300 for the second year, $4,400 for the third year and $4,500 for the last year. This proposal was supported by White, Sample and Wilhelm and opposed by Brookes and Weaver.

By the same plan, the salary of Prof. Bender in the event of his election was placed at $4,000 for the first year, $4,100 for the second year, $4,200 for the third year and $4,300 for the last year. All five members of the board, however, voted for this proposition.

President Brookes then moved the election of the Bluffton candidate, the motion being seconded by Weaver. Upon roll call, White, Sample and Wilhelm voted "no," while Brookes and Weaver voted "yes." The motion was declared lost.

Then White offered the name of McVay, seconded by Sample. He was declared elected when White, Sample and Wilhelm voted "yes" and Brookes and Weaver voted "no."

New Superintendent is 52.

Emmett, Gaston, clerk-treasurer of the board, was instructed to communicate with McVay, advising him that he had been elected as head of the East Liverpool schools by a vote of three to two. Doubt was expressed by Weaver and Brookes as to whether McVay would accept the place under such conditions.

The newly named superintendent is 52 years of age, married and has one daughter. He was superintendent of schools for nine years at Bellaire, and then went to Ambridge, Pa., where he served for a few years. From Ambridge he went to Mingo Junction and while there was called to New Philadelphia to take the place of the school chieftain who had been killed in an automobile accident.

When McVay took charge of the schools at New Philadelphia three years ago, his supporters claim, the high school was on half-day session and the entire school system was in need of reorgaanization. It is alleged that he caused the enmity of members of the board and a number of the teachers by certain changes which he made for the benefit of the schools.

Sample Lauds McVay.

"In New Philadelphia we found the business men almost as a unit in back of Mr. McVay," said R. W. Sample, following the meeting. "About the only opposition that could be found there was among the five members of the board of education. I believe that we have made a wise selection and that the East Liverpool schools will continue to grow and prosper under his leadership."

McVay is a member of the Methodist Episcopal church and the Rotary club, and is said to be affiliated with the Masonic order. He will assume his place here about September 1, when Superintendent Geiger goes to New Philadelphia.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, June 30.—Further improvement in industrial stock prices was noted in the early trading today, following Monday's late rally. A number of the leading stocks registered gains of a point or two at the opening, after which some of them slumped off while other advanced to still higher prices. United States Rubber continued its spectacular course and reached a new high at 54⅜ in response to aggressive buying, based on the recent rise in tire and tube prices. Ajax, Fisk and Goodrich continued to attract attention.

The market appeared to have completely recovered from the shock of the California earthquake, with confirmatory dispatches showing that the damage was local and did not seriously affect the properties whose stocks are traded in on the floor of the exchange. Bullish pools were ready to resume their forward price movements in favored stocks. American Can was up two points at the start, but sold off when directors of the company announced only the regular dividend on the common stock.

Nearly all of the active motor and accessory stocks resumed the rally near theend of the first hour, with General Motors, Pierce-Arrow, Mack Trucks and Studebaker in the ead, Motor Wheel and Stewart Warner featured the accessories.

With call money back to 5 per cent the money situation appeared to be under less of a strain.

Took Two Plasters to Remove This Stubborn Corn

—But It Never Came Back

"I had a callused corn that burned and ached until it made me sick all over," writes Miss Grace Graver, 869 Edison St., Indianapolis, Ind. "Any kind of shoe hurt it. A friend recommended 'Blue-jay' Plasters and I used two in succession, for nine was a stubborn corn. The first plaster relieved the pain at once. Two days later, the second plaster lifted the corn right out. That was about a year ago, and the corn never came back."

All over America the shapely little "Blue-jay" Plaster is bringing merciful relief. Its soft felt ring is encircling millions of corns—holding off the painful shoe pressure. The "Blue-jay" preparation is centered in this ring, right on top of the corn. An adhesive strip holds the plaster in place. In 48 hours, those corns lift right out—removed by "Blue-jay," a chemist's great discovery!

Some extra-stubborn corns may require a second plaster, but isn't this better than risking infection by paring corns at home? No chance for mistakes in getting on the right amount, as when you drop on a liquid remedy. In "Blue-jay" Plasters, the dose is measured for you by an able chemist, not too much—not too little—just the right amount to remove the corn gently. Hence, we recommend "Blue-jay" Plasters as better than any liquid, than even our own. Package of six, 25c at any druggist's. Try them. In two days write us your experience. "Blue-jay" Laboratories, 25th and Dearborn Sts., Chicago, Ill.

KEYMEN'S WAGE MEETING CLOSES

Reach Satisfactory Agreement With Pennsy.

Negotiations for revision of the wages and working conditions of the six thousand telegraphers of the Pennsylvania Railroad system has been brought to a successful conclusion after a series of conferences extending over several weeks.

Announcement to this effect was authorized today at the company's headquarters in Broad street station. The negotiations were conducted under the employes' representation plan adopted by the men and management of the Pennsylvania railroad. Adjustments of pay and changes in working conditions will be put into effect as a result of the mutual negotiations. A series of conferences and conclusions resulting therefrom will tend to cement more closely the friendly relationship between the management and its employes in the telegraph department. The sums appropriation and available for wage adjustment will be allotted to the various divisions and application to their positions on each division will be worked out jointly between the representative of the employes and the representatives of the management. The wage revision agreed upon has largely been the result of the work of the joint fact finding committee, appointed earlier in the year to represent both the management and the employes. This committee presented its report some weeks ago following which the negotiations were resumed and have now been carried to completion. The question whether employes of the telegraph department of the Pennsylvania company, all of whom are paid upon an hourly basis, shall work six days a week or seven days a week was thoroughly discussed in the conference.

The conclusion mutually reached was that this question should be left to the determination of the majority of the employes affected on each division.

During the conferences at which these questions were discussed the telegraph department employees were represented by 51 chairmen covering the various divisions of the system. They were headed by M. J. Kelly, general chairman of the craft.

The management was represented by C. I. Leiper, assistant general manager, eastern region, A. Enochs, Supt. wage bureau, eastern region; H. K. Brady, Supt. labor and wage bureau, central region; and W. W. Burell, Supt. labor and wage bureau, western region.

May Combine Relief Plans.

Jefferson and Belmont counties may combine their efforts for relief of tuberculosis victims.

Belmont county now has a hospital where patients are treated and cared for. Some years ago Jefferson county sold bonds for such a hospital but the proposal never fully materialized. The plan now is to combine the project in the two counties. Steubenville citizens yesterday inspected the Belmont hospital and within the near future will talk with commissioners on the feasibility of the proposed arrangement.

How to Solve Puzzle.

The best way to solve this cross-word puzzle is to run over the list of horizontal and vertical synonyms in search of evident or "easy" words. If horizontal, the word you are looking for must extend crosswise from the number to the first shaded stop on the right; if vertical, it must extend downward from the number to the first shaded stop below. When finished, the words should read equally well crosswise and downward.

David Belasco's Hit, "Gold Diggers," At Ceramic Theatre

"The Gold Diggers" at the Ceramic theater today and tomorrow, is the first of the series of Delasco plays. To do it justice, the services of such stars as Hope Hampton, Windham Standing and Louise Fazenda were secured, as well as Gertrude Short, Alec Francis, Jed Prouty, Arita Gillman, Peggy Brown, Margaret Seddon, Johnny Harron, Ann Cornwall, Edna Tichenor, Frances Ross, Marie Prade and Louise Beaudet.

It is the story of a group of young chorus girls, blase, pleasure-loving, happy-go-lucky, who see life in terms of extracting painlessly as much money as they can from wealthy men in search of diversion. Jerry Lamar is queen of them all, and, being a good girl with strong influence, she is able to keep them in check, and make them lead good lives; though the voice of slander is busy through the brash streets of Broadway, and the are supposed to be dangerous to men.

ANY WOMAN, any man, can now have a well-developed face and form. The whole, simple secret of a well-developed form is in the number of blood-cells in your body. You can now forget all the theoretical talk about diet, exercise, fad treatments, food-fats and fat-foods. Nothing is of any use, after all, except blood-cells!

Thin, run-down men and women, with bony necks, sunken cheeks, bony shoulders—all these are suffering from one thing—too few blood-cells. Science has proved that S.S.S. helps to make the rich red-blood-cells, which you need. Your blood is starving for these new blood-cells! Give your blood the blood-cells it needs—take S.S.S. the great scientific blood-cell maker. S.S.S. has done marvels, too, in making beautiful complexions, clearing the skin, making lips rosy red, the cheeks full and plump—because it rids the blood of impurities which cause pimples, blackheads, acne, blotches, eczema, tetter, rash and rheumatism, too. As the medicinal ingredients of S.S.S. are purely vegetable, it may be taken with perfect safety. This is why S.S.S., since 1826, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women a plus in their strength. Start taking S.S.S. today and your great problem, that of your personal appearance, can be solved.

EAST LIVERPOOL — AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

TUESDAY, JUNE 30, 1925.

Playgrounds Life-Savers

Figoratively speaking, a life-saving station was established in East Liverpool last night, when the municipal playground, Second and Washington streets, was formerly opened for the 1925 season by the recreation committee of the City Federation of Women's clubs.

Hundreds of children, eager to take advantage of privileges provided by the far-sighted club women, who not only recognize the need of wholesome outdoor exercise for Young America but also are cognizant of the need of supervised play as a means of curtailing the appalling annual toll of traffic accidents, visited the lot.

Recent automobile accidents in the East Liverpool district, one of which proved fatal, emphasize the danger of making recreation centers of the public highways. So far this year, Ohio's death toll in traffic crashes has surpassed the 1924 figures. However, a survey shows that wherever playlots are established comparatively few accidental deaths among children are reported as the youngsters are enjoying themselves in the recreation centers instead of being subjected to the hazards attendant on romping in the streets which should be free for traffic as originally intended.

Despite the demonstration of the value of play under the watchful eyes of trained supervisors, East Liverpool parents and big brothers and sisters appear to be lukewarm in their support of the movement. Their financial contributions on Playground Novelty Day fell far below the report of bygone years. In fact, including a surplus remaining when the playlot was closed last fall, the club federation has only $500 with which to meet the expense of maintaining the recreation center this summer. More funds are needed if the lot is to be kept open until the fall term of school.

There is one way out of the dilemma. Another Playground Day should be observed. Surely the people realize there can be no better investment than the expenditure of the necessary appropriation that will insure not only the safety of our children but also their happiness, upon which our own is so largely dependent. Playlots are a means of insuring peace of mind of motorists who will not have to worry so much about the possibility of running down a child, and fathers and mothers will be happy in the knowledge that their youngsters are enjoying outdoor exercise safely and sanely.

The New Calendar

A calendar with 13 months in it might be expected to be unlucky. And sure enough, the new calendar proposed by the league of nations, after urging from various quarters of the world, is unlucky. But only to this extent—that a lazy-minded world, content with existing institutions, usually objects to what is good for it.

The metric system, incomparably superior to other forms of counting and measuring used in the world, and especially superior to our English and American systems of weight and measures, has made little progress for generations. The civilized world still uses an awkward calendar adopted by Julius Caesar for the Roman empire nearly 2,000 years ago, a calendar with months of varying length and weeks not evenly divisible into either months or years.

The proposed calendar, worked out by international scientists, would provide 13 months of exactly four weeks each. Thus there would never be any doubt about when pay day came—or any other day. A particular day of the months would be the same day of the week in every month. Business reckoning, interest figuring, etc., would be simplified.

The 13 months would make 364 days. The regular day left would be New Year day, not belonging to any week but inserted as an extra between the old year and the new. Leap year day would come likewise, as a cipher in the calendar, in the middle of the year. The new month, called "Sol," would stand between June and July.

Yes, it sounds ridiculous the first time you think of it. But the idea grows.

Less Crude Labor

An unexpected result of the new immigration law is the loss of unskilled labor. The first 10 months' operation show, in a net gain of 35,000 skilled workmen but a loss of nearly 17,000 common laborers. Few laborers came, and more of them left the country.

This is exactly the opposite of past experience and of what most Americans expected. This country is pretty competent to furnish its own skilled labor. What it has wanted mainly in industrial immigration is raw labor to perform the hard and unpleasant tasks that natives scorn.

These official figures do not tell the whole story. There has been a considerable influx of crude labor from Mexico and the West Indies through bootleg immigration channels, and a little of the same thing from Canada. But at most, there has been no gain in the crude labor supply, either male or female, corresponding to the economic demand of the country.

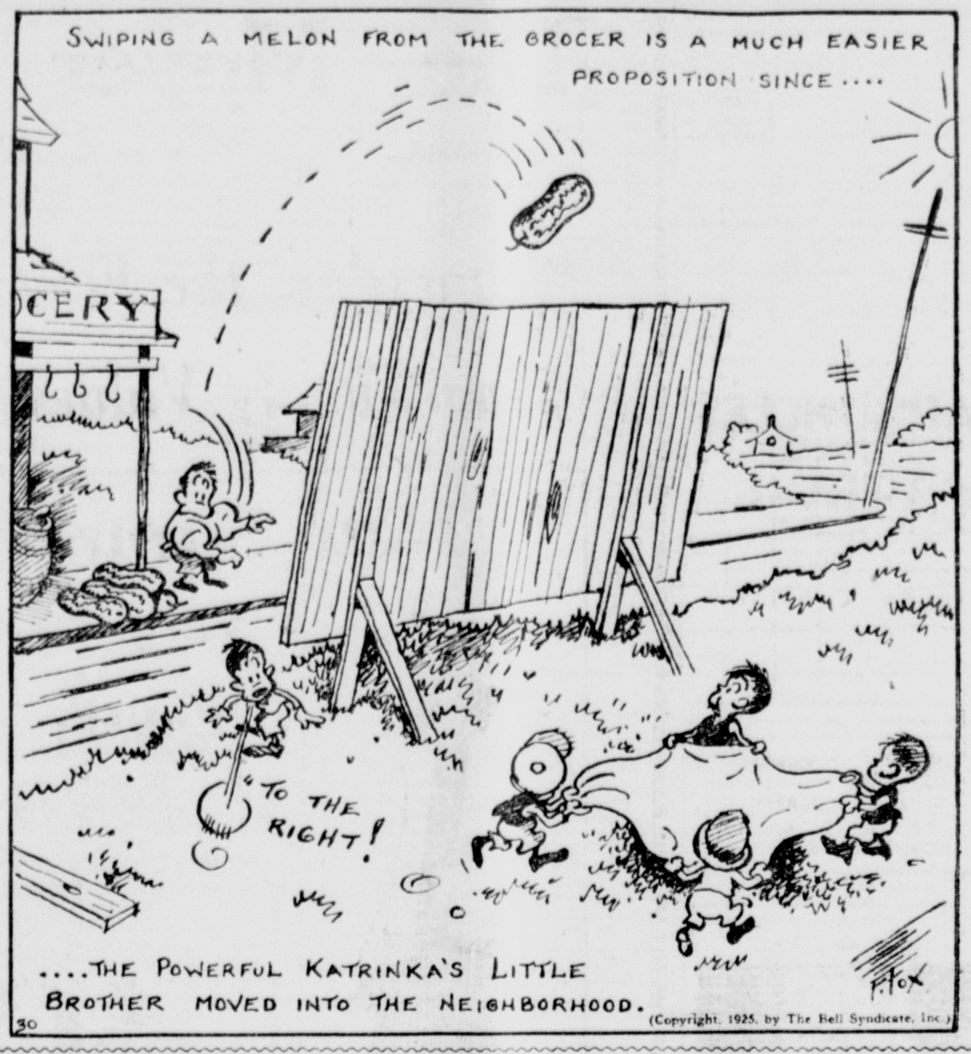
This means a greater demand than ever for labor-saving machinery. It means also that a lot of Americans are going to be obliged to do more things for themselves—which won't hurt them.

Somebody suggests the appointment of a receiver for China. That would be better, anyway, than having several nations scrapping about who should be executor of the estate.

It isn't fair to call Dayton, Tenn., "Monkey Town," but how about other towns aping it?

Darwinism or no Darwinism, it's surprising how many people act as if they had just come down out of the trees.

The Powerful Katrinka's Little Brother— By Fontaine Fox



NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, June 30.—There are all manners of ways of making what many New Yorkers consider one of the prime requisites of life—a flash. It is an old saw that the 'four flush" here is elegant in dividends. It has lifted the obscure into amazing opulence.

A head waiter by pre-arrangement was paid one hundred dollars the other night merely to come to a table, call the host by name and murmur politely: "The managment has asked me to say that nothing is too good for you, sir. The entire establishment is at your service."

There is a publishing firm in Jersey that will to all intents make a poet of a puddler. For a consideration they will prepare, print and issue for private circulation a book of "original poems" written ostensibly by the man who will pay the price.

And an Amsterdam garage owner offers an unusual conceit. He has for rent one of those low slung, rakish town cars where the chauffeur sits out in the sun. He will also furnish a driver in plum colored livery and a white Russian wolfhound to sit beside him like a page from Vanity Fair.

Thus the lady who wishes to high-tone the multitudes at lunch, the play or ordinary call may do so for the reasonable sum of $25 an hour. A la-de-dah employment agency furnishes a smart housekeeping trio—a Jap valet, French maid and liveried butler—for the evening only.

It is said Jack Dempsey spurned $500 to leave his table one night in the old Palais Royal and join a well known broker from Wall Street in a rather intimate fashion at another table. He had often regaled friends with stories of "my pal Jack" and wanted to make good.

Every bell hop has received many extra dollars for paging some fellow dining with ab lond or what-is-it. It gives, it seems, an air of importance to be called away from the table several times. Harmless amusing stuff and a royal tribute to the great god Four Flush!

Two producers salvaged more than a million each out of the turbulent theatrical currents of last season. The lucky entrepeneurs were Arthur Hammerstein and Harry Frazee. Seven others are said to have made more than one hundred thousand. Also many went broke.

Most of us secretly dream of some heroic act in public and so my entire sympathy is with a rugged outlander in a 47th street cabaret. A gent in Spanish costume floated out on the dance floor with an etherial creature in chiffon. Suddenly and, it seemed to the outlander for no reason at all, he grabbed her roughly, slammed her to the floor and in a haughty fashion and pose calmly lit a cigarette. The visitor didn't know it was a part of the dance and before they could whirl away again he rushed out and socked the Spanish gent in the jaw.

My sole effort at heroics was to accept a challenge of a touring wrestler who met all comers at a county fair. What happened I have not the faintest idea but I do know that everything was shaken out of my pockets including the key to my hunting case silver watch.

In moments of great excitement people do strange things. In a hotel fire the other day a woman awakened in a smoke filled room tossed a bowl of goldfish out the window and began yelling for help. A New York playwright in crossing the English channel in a passenger plane reached for his hat as the plane dropped one hundred feet.

HASKIN'S LETTER

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Indian Head.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 30.—About 22 miles from the national capital, on a promontory overlooking the Potomac river is the tiny village of Indian Head. This little hamlet is so obscure that apparently nothing has ever been written about it. A search of the various encyclopedias and the files of the library of congress revealed no mention of it. And yet it is of vital importance to the people of the United States. In fact, it is so important that this is doubtless part of the reason for its being carefully guarded against publicity. For there is located the only government-owned powder plant.

Until a few years ago Indian Head was also the site of the naval proving grounds. They were the reason for its existence. About 1890 it was decided to remove the proving work from Annapolis and an area of land in Charles county was selected. A tiny community was dug out of this wilderness and thus Indian Head came into being. Its inhabitants consisted of the workmen, the few naval naval officers on duty there, and a marine guard. To this day many of these original workmen and their families still live there.

Until the time of the World war all of the guns and shells of the navy were tested at Indian Head. In 1918 work on new proving grounds was begun at Dahlgren, Virginia, and some of the proving work transferred there. This in a measure relieved the congestion of work which was caused by the increased demands of a nation at war. In 1921 all of this work was transferred to the Virginia grounds.

Motorists and visitors still find indications of the proving work that was formerly carried on at Indian Head. On the outskirts of the village the trees bear signs warning against the dropping of lighted matches or cigarettes because of unexploded shells in the vicinity. Along the narrow beach may be found pieces of shell and of steel armor plate which is twisted and shell-torn.

Powder Plant Opens.

With the adoption of smokeless powder in 1899 the navy established its own powder factory at Indian Head. The output of this plant before the war was increased from time to time until it was producing about 20,000 pounds a day. The increased demands of the war, however, necessitated the enlarging of the plant and brought many more people to this place. The laboratory became practically a training school for the technical force employed for inspection duty in connection with the purchase of explosives.

With this additional population and activity the town boomed—that is, in a modest way. More houses were needed and these were built by the Emergency Housing Corporation. A school was built, a community center, stores and banks came into existence. There is a small but comfortable hotel. But even with this growth the town still remained practically a closed corporation.

With the end of the war and the removal of the proving work the number of inhabitants dwindled. However, the town is unique in its self-sufficiency. It has little outside contact. While there are freight trains there is none for passengers. The only way to reach it is by a boat which runs three times a week, or by motor. The boat carries the mail.

The state of Maryland built an excellent dirt road which connects with the main highway. Practically all the way this road is overhung with trees and in the spring these are thick with honeysuckle. Washingtonians frequently take this trip, armed with picnic lunches which may be eaten in the woods beyond the village. There are many places overlooking the river where one may entertain himself watching the boats plying up and down. It gives one the sense of being many miles from the city and its crowds.

There are now perhaps 1,500 or 2,000 inhabitants of Indian Head. The school, which is partly administered by the federal government and partly by the state of Maryland, has 200 pupils. The grades extend through the high school grades. The village has its own hospital, own water works and electric plant. Many of the workmen have their own farms outside the town limits and raise their own vegetables. Some even raise their own tobacco. They are indeed sufficient unto themselves.

Life At Indian Head.

The big event of the year is the Charles county fair. This is held in the grounds of the community center and to it come the people of all the surrounding country. There is a great judging of jellies, knitting and livestock. The central figure in this is an old retired naval lieutenant who was stationed there when the grounds were opened, and has lived there ever since his retirement.

On the whole, life at Indian Head is rather quiet, and largely out-of-doors. In the summer the popular pastimes are swimming, fishing, boating and playing tennis. In the fall the duck shooting is said to be excellent. The families of the few officers stationed there may meet for a game of bridge, but there is comparatively little of the usual activity of a naval station. The golf fever seems to have skipped this community—perhaps because there appears to be no suitable location for a course.

Probably the thing which strikes the visiting motorist most forcibly is the speed limit and the zeal with which it is enforced. Upon arriving on the outskirts of the town one is greeted with a brilliant yellow sign informing him that the speed limit is 15 miles an hour. Of course this is not an unusual rate for a small town. There are many where the rate is 12. The remarkable point is the almost clairvoyant powers of the marine guard when it comes to detecting the speed of the motorist. Not long ago a party from Washington was astounded to have a guard step from the sentry box, hail them and inform them they were doing 16 and 20. Distinguishing between 15 and 16 miles an hour seems quite a feat to the average person.

It must be said that the curbing of the speeders is not confined to casual visiters. A naval officer on a tour of inspection was stopped and chided, and it is told that the son of one of the original inhabitants was told to leave the town because of his continued disregard for the speed rule. Even in the days before the motorcycle displaced the horse this rule was vigilantly enforced. A marine mounted on a horse would gallop after any offending motorist. An officer formerly attached to this station said he often wondered how this guard could tell how fast the motorist was going. Certainly he had no speedometer on his horse. Several theories for the strict enforcement of the speed limit have been advanced. One is that it would be dangerous to have high-powered motors thundering through on account of the powder stored there, and another is that the large number of children living there necessitate a low rate.

When driving through this isolated, slow-moving village it is difficult to realize just how important it is to the people of this country. Upon the work of this community largely depends the efficiency of the navy. The latest guns would be of little use without the powder manufactured there. Which proves that a town should not be judged by its exterior—or its speed limit.

AN OPERATION RECOMMENDED
Avoided by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Los Angeles, Cal. — "I cannot give too much praise to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for what it has done for me. My mother gave it to me when I was a girl 14 years old, and since then I have taken it when I feel run down or tired. I took it for three months before my two babies were born for I suffered with my back and had spells as if my heart was affected, and it helped me a lot. The doctors told me at one time that I would have to have an operation. I thought I would try 'Pinkham's,' as I call it, first. In two months I was all right and had no operation. I firmly believe 'Pinkham's' cured me. Everyone who saw me after that remarked that I looked so well. I only have to take medicine occasionally, not but I always keep a couple of bottles by me. I recommend it to women who speak to me about their health. I have also used your Sanative Wash and like it very much." — Mrs. E. GOULD, 4000 East Side Boulevard, Los Angeles, Cal.

Many letters have been received from women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after operations have been advised.

STEEL MERGER IS REPORTED

Independent Companies May Shortly Pool Interests.

The Weirton Steel company, Follansbee Brothers company and Wheeling Steel company are included in a proposed merger of steel concerns as a rival of the United States Steel Corporation.

Cleveland advices state that a steel corporation of almost incredible grandeur has been put together on paper and is being shown to leading interests in more than a dozen large and small independent steel companies with plants all over the middle west and Ohio valley.

Plans appear to have gone no farther than discussion between some of the companies mentioned and officials will not admit entertaining the project, but the suggestions has been seriously made to include in one great corporation the Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Republic Iron & Steel, Otis Steel of Cleveland and others. One of the purposes is to create an organization as large as the United States Steel corporation and if all the companies mentioned in the report were actually to merge, the result would be very nearly that size.

There are two series of reports. The one circulating in Cleveland and Ohio mentions eleven companies as candidates for the merger, while a variation of that report adds the Bethlehem and Youngstown companies.

The other report, current in New York, has two mergers under consideration, one to consist of Otis and Midland Steel Products, both of Cleveland, Trumbull Steel of Warren, O., and United Alloy Steel of Canton, O., and the second to consist of Republic, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet & Tube and Inland Steel of Chicago.

The 11 companies understood to have been interviewed as possibilities for the one merger are following: Allegheny Steel, Pittsburgh; American Rolling Mills, Middletown, O.; Follansbee Brothers, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Mansfield Sheet & Tube Plate, Mansfield, O.; Otis Steel, Cleveland; Republic, Youngstown; Sharon Steel Hoop, Sharon, Pa.; Trumbull Steel, Warren, O.; United Alloy, Canton; Weirton Steel, Weirton and Steubenville, and Wheeling Steel Corporation.

NEW WATER POWER BILL IS DRAFTED

A new water power bill has been drafted and is ready for submission at any time which, while it follows in a general way the original Hugus-Keatley bill presented at the constitutional session of the legislature, has some differences.

One of the changes is that for the purpose of considering applications and granting licenses for water power projects, the governor shall be ex officio a member of the public service commission. Also the powers of the commission are somewhat enlarged, they must take into account the financial responsibility of an applicant and be sure the proposed project can be carried out. The provision which requires the payment of one per cent on the gross sales of power has not been changed otherwise than such payment no longer constitutes a portion of the contract between the state and the licensee.

The new bill enlarges the class of corporations which can be granted licenses, allowing licenses to those which supply water or light, heat and power by means of electricity, gas or water, while the old bill granted licenses only to those manufacturing, generating, supplying and selling energy or power produced from water as a motive force.

Miss Violet Shope Becomes Bride of Edwin L. Goodwin

A pretty wedding ceremony was performed this morning at 11 o'clock in St. Stephen's Episcopal church by Rev. Lionel C. Difford, pastor of the church, when Miss Violet Leola Shope, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Shope of Riverview avenue, became the bride of Edwin Leland Goodwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Goodwin of May street.

Previous to the ceremony Mrs. H. Dan Smith sang "At Dawning." The boys' choir of the church also gave selections. Prof. Albert Clark presided at the organ.

Miss Shope had as her bridesmaid, her sister, Miss Marjorie Shope, while Mr. Goodwin had Thomas Clark as best man.

The bride was gowned in white crepe and rose satin, and wore a white picture hat laced with rose satin. She carried Ophelia roses. The bridesmaid wore rose crepe chiffon over rose satin and silver lace, and a picture hat of black. Her corsage was of roses and lilies of the valley.

Following the ceremony, a reception was given in the home of the bride's parents. The tables for the wedding breakfast were decorated with roses and asparagus fern.

The bride, who was a graduate of the class of '20 from the local high school, was employed previous to her marriage as stenographer at the Harker pottery. The bridegroom is part owner of the Tri-State Battery company. He graduated from the local high school with the class of '18.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin will leave later in the day for a honeymoon in Detroit, Canada and New York City. Upon their return they will be at home to friends in a newly furnished residence at Second and Washington streets, Newell.

Among the out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. James Goodwin and daughter of Detroit, Mich., and Mr. and Mrs. Lyda Faust of Wilkinsburg, Pa.

Miss Martin, Former Local Girl, Bride Of Paul Jackson

An improvised altar extended the full height of the living room in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Boyd Martin, 109 N. The altar, lighted with tall candles, was a mass of palms, ferns and tall baskets of Ohphelia roses. Rev. Dr. T. H. Campbell of the North Broadway Methodist Episcopal church, read the ring ceremony. Miss Frances Beall, pianist; Mrs. Mabel Dun Hopkins, violinist, and Mrs. Stephen Stepanian, 'cellist, played the wedding music.

The attendants were: Miss Hazel R. NEWS FROM TOWNS IN TRI-STATE DISTRICT

LISBON

M. K. Zimerman, West Park Ave. Phone 319-R. Lisbon, O.

MOTION FILED IN TAX ACTION

County Auditors Will Collect Inheritance Assessments.

The State Tax commission is now filing motions with Probate Judges to direct county auditors to appraise property that is subject to the inheritance tax, and the first of these motions has been filed with Probate Judge Lodge Riddle. In this case the court has directed County Auditor Charles E. Hamilton to determine the tax now due in the estate of Atlee Gobley, deceased, late of Knox township who died Feb. 20, 1920.

In this case Frank Gobley was named administrator, and the heirs were seven aunts and uncles of the deceased, all of whom succeed to the property. Each of the seven heirs have inherited $705.12 which is taxable at the rate of 7 per cent. With the tax due and the interest at 8 per cent which has been accumulating for these past years, there is now due the county $296.15.

It has been estimated that between 200 and 300 similar motions will be filed with the Probate court by the State Tax commission, and it is said that there is nothing left for the court to do but to grant such motion and order the county auditor to appraise the property that is subject to the inheritance tax. Only recently in this county a tax of over 2,00 was collected as inheritance tax and interest of many years standing, and all because the administrator of an estate was lax in his duty to the heirs of the estate. The court has pointed out that no reason should exist for such negligence, and that instead of money due heirs from an estate going to them, they are compelled to lose a large portion of their property because of the inactivity of administrators and executors.

In the case of the Gobley estate, the court has declared that letters written those interested have remained unanswered, and that the only course now left is to follow the petitions of the State Tax commission. Also, that in this case the interest for the unpaid inheritance tax is to be collected from Feb. 2, 1921.

At least a dozen other motions will be filed with the Probate court within the next fortnight, it has been explained, all bearing upon the same subject, which is one of the most far reaching ever attempted in this county, because of the fact so many people are interestd.

PYTHIAN SISTERS TO HOLD OUTING

The first outing of the Pythian Sisters of the Twentieth Ohio district, which includes a part of Mahoning, and all of Jefferson and Columbiana counties will be held at the county fair grounds, Lisbon, Wednesday, July 15. A similar event has been ordered for every Pythian Sister district in the state, and all Pythian Sisters and their families and members of the Knights of Pythias and their families have been invited to take part in the event.

Arrangements for the outing for this district are in charge of District Deputy Grand Chief, Emma Albright of Lisbon. The district includes lodges in Lisbon, Salem, Leetonia, East Palestine, Columbiana, Washingtonville, Rogers, Wellsville, East Liverpool, Salineville Irondale, Empire, New Somerset and Sebring.

There will be games, contests, stunts and free dancing in the afternoon and park-plan dancing in the evening.

OFFICERS NAMED BY MAIL CARRIERS

Rural mail carriers of this county met in the Lisbon city building Saturday night and elected the following officers to serve for a term of one year: President, C. O. Jones, Salem; vice president, Sherman Milburn, Kensington, secretary, Isaac Culp, Columbiana; treasurer, A. M. Baner, Salem. Delegates to the state convention are Mr. Culp, W. S. Whiteleather, Moultrie; Sylvis Hull, Columbiana, and Charles O. Jones, Salem. About 30 carriers attended.

Released from Custody.

Theran Merriman, who was indicted on a morality charge by the last grand jury, was released from custody Monday afternoon, his case being adjusted during a conference between his counsel, Samuel W. Crawford of East Liverpool and Prosecuting Attorney R. M. Brookes. Merriman paid the costs in the case after an entry was made on the calendar by Judge James G. Moore, and he was then given his liberty.

Released From Jail.

Charles Whitey, who was committed to the county jail from East Liverpool, on a charge of violating the liquor laws, was paroled by the county commissioners. He was given a credit for the number of days he has been in the custody of Sheriff George Wright, and made arrangements to discount the balance of the fine. He was released upon the recommendation of the committing court.

Two Handed Fines.

Charged with stealing parts of an automobile, which consisted of tire, tube and rim, Willis Armstrong and Thomas Walters of Lisbon were given a hearing before Mayor Frank E. Albrecht and fined $100 and costs each and sentenced to the county jail for a period of 30 days.

The court suspended the jail sentence upon the payment of the fine, of which $50 was paid down by each, and an arrangement made whereby the balance would be paid at a convenient period.

Lodged In Jail.

Dempsey-Tunney Scrap On Labor Day Is Latest Fistic Plan

Wills Expected to Eliminate Himself In Weinert Battle

Some, However, Look Upon Negro as Winner; Greb Made 8 to 5 Favorite Over Walker, and Slattery 2½ to One Over Dave Shade; Principals in Benefit Show on Ground Tomorrow.

By DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, June 30.—In the fond expectation that Harry Wills will commit professional suicide by his showing against Charley Weiner on Thursday night, Jack Kearns and Billy Gibson were reported today to be cooking up a 10-round, no decision match between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney at Michigan City, Ind., on Labor Day.

Announcement of plans and specifications will be held in abeyance, it was said, until after the Wills-Weinert bout in order to see how the colored gent in the pugilistic wood pile conducts himself. If he fails to astound the populace, he will be deemed to have engaged in the business of self-elimination and the Dempsey-Tunney affair will be megaphoned as the only logical meeting for the championship.

If Wills wins impressively, the Michigan City date will be kept regardless, except that in this case the customary announcement will follow that no promoter has come forward with an acceptable offer for Dempsey and Wills and that, therefore, the champion has no alternative but to accept Tunney as a co-attraction.

As far as public opinion was concerned, however, Messrs. Kearns and Gibson can shoot without waiting to see the whites of their eyes.

A well-known bookmaker today quoted Wills as a 4 to 1 choice over Weinert and was willing to give a good price that Harry would win by a knockout. The same authority made Harry Grebb an 8 to 5 shot over Mickey Walker for their middleweight title bout the same evening, and placed Jimmy Slattery a 2½ to 1 choice over Dave Shade.

All of the principals in the extravaganza to be held for the benefit of Wills, Weinert, Greb, Walker, Slattery, Shade and the Italian hospital fund, will be on the ground within the next 24 hours. Greb will leave his camp at Atlantic City today, and, according to "Red" Mason, his manager, was never better. Wills is due in town from Southampton, L. I., before nightfall.

He probably will weigh as much as 215 pounds. This will give him a decided weight advantage over Weinert, who probably will come in at 190. When he will go out remains with Wills, who must win decisively or turn his attention to other and more peaceful pursuits. Many look for Wills to stub a figurative toe on the Weinert hurdle.

Walker will be the last principal to put in an appearance, present plans calling for him to remain at Summit, N. J., until tomorrow or even Thursday morning. He is said to fairly bristle with confidence, but the boys seem to think he is giving away too much in weight and strength.

RUTH WILL X-RAY INJURED ANKLE

BOSTON, June 30.—Between acts in his role of realtor, in an attempt to sell his South Sudbury farm, Babe Ruth, the home run king, hobbled over to the office of an x-ray specialist today to have a picture taken of his lame right ankle.

Ruth said he was convinced that he was suffering from a broken bone and decided to have the x-ray picture taken before going to New York.

"I may be laid up for a while, but I won't be out of baseball for the rest of the season, I hope," said Ruth.

Ruth's chief concern was not his swollen right ankle but his South Sudbury farm. A part of the second part has been obtained and Ruth has about clinched the reale state deal.

DUE WARNING

Is Issued by Mr. Sweetser That He Is After Golf Crown

By Norman E. Brown.

Three summers ago a blushing young collegiate named Jess Sweetser stepped into the national golfing limelight by winning the Metropolitan amateur tourney, one of the important sectional events of the year.

His superb golf won the praise of all critics. They felt that it presaged greater things. It did. A couple of months later, playing the same brand of golf, he won the national amateur golf championship. In a field of the game's leading simon pures he fought his way to the semi-finals and then with a game that couldn't be denied turned back Chick Evans, Jr., perennial western champ and national champ in 1916 and 1920, by the score of 3 up and 2 to play.

Now Sweetser, after two years of somewhat erratic golf, has won the Metropolitan amateur again and the game he played in winning that tourney and has displayed in all his matches to date has given indications that he will make a sincere bid for the national amateur later this season.

There's a good chance, if he holds to his game, that he will repeat his feat of 1922. The main stumbling block in his road, of course, is Robert Jones of Atlanta, 1924 champ and the man who fought it out with Willie MacFarlane for 36 holes in a vain effort to win the national open title this year.

While the east now claims Sweetser, he is a westerner by birth, a native of St. Louis.

It was during his college preparatory days that he first drew attention as a golfer. He won the school championship at Exeter three successive years and captained the golf team his final year.

At Yale he improved his game. In 1920 he won the national intercollegiate title. The following year he lost out in the finals to J. Simpson Dean of Princeton on what was apparently an off day for Jess.

In 1921 Sweetser proved one of the sensations of the national amateur tourney when he gave Chick Evans a hectic battle in the third round of play.

Sweetser was foiled in his efforts to retain the national amateur in 1923 when Max Marston checked him in the finals.

The last two seasons Sweetser's studies and work have taken much time from his golf—as any golfer would put it. His game, up to this spring, has been a bit off color. That he intends making a serious effort to enter the front ranks again is indicated by his play to date.

Coveleskie, the ancient spitball heaver, pitched the Senators to a 4 to 1 decision over the Athletics, cutting the latter's lead to a half game. Gray met his first defeat of the season and is now tied with the Pole for leading honors with nine victories in ten games.

Zivic Lays Off Ring Work; Visiting With Friends Here

Pittsburgh Boxer Will Permit Injured Hands to Get Well Before Donning Mitts Again.

Looking fine and feeling, he says, as fit as the proverbial fiddle, Jack Zivic, Pittsburgh boxer, and one of the leading lightweights of the country, is enjoying a respite from ring duties while he visits with Ray and Byron Foutts, of this city.

Zivic recently finished a series of gruelling scraps, at the close of which he felt somewhat the worse for wear. And now he will mark time for a short period in order to permit injuries to heal.

His right wrist is still bandaged and contusions on the back of his left hand still bear evidence of hard battles. His left hand carried the bruises in his recent scrap with Cuddy DeMarco and the prior bout with Lew Tendler, the Philadelphia southpaw. Zivic previously had knocked out Tendler, which, by the way, was the only K. O. in Lew's long career, but lost the decision in a second go. Zivic is not an alibi artist. He realized the extent of his injuries before he fought Tendler in their second scrap, and before he met DeMarco. But no one but himself and Bronson, his manager, were acquainted with the fact. Zivic said yesterday "the fights had been billed and I felt it was my duty, injuries or no injuries, to go through with them instead of calling them off, as I could have done."

There is no doubt that the bruises on Zivic's left hand impaired, to a great extent, the efficacy of his ripping left hook, one of his most crushing blows.

He left handed Nate Goldman into a kayo some time ago at Motor Square, Pittsburgh, which is proof enough of his assertions.

And Archie Walker met a similar fate in a similar manner. Zivic dropped Walker three times by swift lefts to the chin before a sharp right hook knocked Walker as cold as canned mackerel. This was at New York quite a few moons ago.

"So," said Jack, "it's up to me to let that hand get well."

Zivic made 137 pounds for DeMarco, but fears that one of these days he'll be compelled to enter the welterweight ranks. He's hovering around the 145-pound mark now.

The status of a welterweight would not be unwelcome to the Pittsburgh lad. Zivic is still in his early twenties, and takes good care of himself. Consequently, he should go a long way before he gives up the game.

Tailenders Force Leaders to Limit to Win 2-1 Clash

Singles by L. McMath and Greene in Last Inning Produce Tally That Gives Chester One-run Victory Over Babcock-Wilcox; McGeehan and Powell in Fine Form.

Compelled to go an extra inning for a decision, the top and bottom clubs of the City Industrial league battled in a fast contest on Smith field last night that was replete with snappy playing, Chester finally winning from B. & W., 2 to 1.

With two down in their final plate appearance in the eighth and the score 1 to 1, L. McMath singled sharply to right. Greene did likewise. McGonigal fumbled the ball and McMath, by a great run, crossed the plate.

Previous to the fateful eighth, McGeehan, pitching for B. & W., had allowed but three widely scattered hits. He also had allowed but one pass and fielded in a sensational manner. In all he accepted seven chances. Twice he caught pop flies, the first being from Jackson's bat and enabling him to retire Cochrane on first for a double play, the second by a run back retiring the side in the third as he caught that from Greene's club. In the fourth he forced out P. Cebula at third by a great stop and throw. His throwing to first on his other assists stood out.

Altogether it was a hard game for McGeehan to lose. He made two of the three hits which his team annexed during the contest. On both occasions he was left on the bags.

Powell mowed down his opponents in all but the second inning when a couple of errors behind him gave the visitors but one run. But for these miscues he doubtless would have blanked the Klondyke contingent. C. Wagner and McGeehan were the only members of the opposition to connect. He gave no walks, did not hit any one and whiffed eight men.

P. Bennett, the veteran, started on first for Chester, but gave way to Jackson after the first inning.

Cochrane played snappily on third base, accepting four chances and especially featuring by his throwing to first base.

L. McMath, though he booted one drive, did some attractive fielding back of first base. On one of these he retired the veteran, Pete Eck, by a quick throw from that territory.

P. Cebula had two miscues, one being costly and made for the only run scored by B. & W.

E. Bennett in right and L. McMath on second did some fancy fly catching during the game.

The contest was perhaps the fastest played this season. Except in two or three instances both sides were retired in regular order.

Green, in right for Chester, did not have a fielding chance, but his timely safety in the eighth, thanks to McGonigal's miscue, won the game for Chester.

Almost a thousand fans saw the game.

M. Cebula, the team's ace, sat on the bench during the entire contest. He doubtless will go in against Laughlin on Tuesday evening.

Digman, out of town for the day, was the only regular absent from the line-up.

P. Cebula, hit in the first, scored on F. Marshall's single to right which McGonigal fumbled.

McGonigal was safe on P. Cebula's error in the second and reached second on McGeehan's single to right from where he scored as L. McMath booted A. Morris' drive.

Tagging The Bases

For the eleventh time this season, the Yanks failed to carry a two-game winning streak on to another victory, the Red Sox maltreating Ferguson and Shawkey cake-walking in, 10 to 5.

The Tigers brought their percentage up to the .500 mark by taking a double fall out of the Indians, 4 to 1 and 7 to 4. Dauss pitched laudable ball in the first game and Karr got a shellacking in the second.

Eddie Collins' homer in the eighth saved the White Sox from a shutout but it didn't save them from a 5 to 2 beating by the Browns. Mogridge was at his left handed best.

Vance threw them right past the Phillies, while the Dodgers smote a succession of pitchers for 15 hits and won, 8 to 3.

Japan is the fourth largest consumer of American raw cotton.
